

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY IS WORSE AND CANNOT LIVE.

Physicians Are Still Hopeful But the Crisis Will Soon Be at Hand--All the World in Sympathy With the American People--History of the Assassin.

CRISIS HAS NOT YET ARRIVED.

ALL ARE HOPEFUL, BUT THERE IS STILL GRAVE DANGER.

President Passed a Peaceful Night and Maintains His Strength.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—President McKinley maintains a good measure of his strength and those who watched at his bedside hold higher hopes for his ultimate recovery. The shock from the wounds inflicted upon him by Leon F. Czolgosz seems to have been less than was anticipated and that is regarded as highly favorable to him.

CRISIS NOT YET COME.

It is admitted that the crisis in his condition has not yet come and that there is the gravest danger until it has been safely passed. Several bulletins came from the chamber of the wounded President during the night and early hours of the morning and they all indicated a spirit of hopefulness. The President rested well and there were no alarming conditions of temperature or pulse and the spirits of the sufferer strong and cheery. The feeling of hope was quite general about the Milburn residence. This morning, in sharp contrast to the hopelessness and regret that prevailed last night.

MRS. M'KINLEY BRAVE.

Mrs. McKinley bears up bravely in her sorrow and the physicians in attendance feel but little concern on her account. At the request of the President, whose first thoughts were of her, she was told that he was not seriously wounded and when she saw him he had rallied from the operation and was suffering but little pain. She was reassured by their meeting and was content to leave his side during the night and rest herself. The surgeons who operated on the President are in constant attendance with a corps of the most skilled nurses obtainable and the sufferer is the recipient of every care which their skill and science suggest.

MAY RECOVER.

They have not publicly discussed the case other than to issue brief bulletins from time to time, but it is understood they believe the President will recover unless complications now anticipated come to sap his strength and vitality. With a common impulse to spare the sufferer the annoyance, that noise would inflict, the public avoids the neighborhood where the Milburn residence is located. Early in the night a small crowd gathered near the house eager for news of the President, but the police had no trouble in keeping the people at a proper distance. Early this morning a detachment of the Fourteenth Infantry was ordered to the house from Fort Porter. A picket line was established in front of the house but the sentries found no work to do.

ALL THE WORLD IS SHOCKED.

MESSAGES OF HOPE COME FROM MANY FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Attack on the President is Deplored by Many Rulers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—By noon the Department of State was prepared to make public some of the messages that had been received abandoning the idea of holding them in hand until the list was complete. These messages came from crowned heads, from foreign ministers, from resident ministers of foreign countries in the United States and from individuals of distinction. Some of them follow:

From the Emperor and Empress of Germany to Mrs. McKinley:

"KONIGSBERG, Sept. 7, 1901.—The Emperor and I are horrified at the attempt planned against your husband. Express our deepest sympathy hoping that God may restore to health Mr. McKinley."

(Signed) WILLIAM I. R. "VICTORIA I. R."

The President of France to President McKinley:

"FRANCO, Sept. 7, 1901.—With keen affliction I learn the news of the heinous attempt of which Your Excellency has just been a victim. I take it to heart to join with the people of the United States in wishing the early recovery of Your Excellency and earnestly desire in this sorrowful juncture to renew to you the assurance of my sentiments of constant and cordial friendship."

(Signed) EMILE LOUBET.

From the President of Guatemala to Mrs. McKinley:

"GUATEMALA, Sept. 7, 1901.—My government and I most heartily lament the unhappy event. Be pleased to receive our profound sorrow."

(Signed) "M. ESTRADA, C."

From the Lieutenant Governor of New South Wales:

"SYDNEY, Sept. 7, 1901.—The government and the people of New South Wales join with me in expressing our deep sympathy with you in your sufferings and our sorrow at the crime which has been committed. We pray that the Almighty in His infinite goodness may spare you to your people."

(Signed) "FREDERICK M. DARLEY."

From the Italian Ambassador to the Secretary of State:

"ROME, Sept. 7, 1901.—Deeply grieved, terrible crime. Trust President will be spared to his country and friends."

(Signed) "BARON FAVA."

From the German Ambassador to the Secretary of State:

SOCIALISTS WILL BE ARRESTED.

SECRETARY ROOT DOES NOT WANT TO STIR UP THE PUBLIC.

Secret Service Men Are Anxious to Capture the Confederates.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—Director General Buchanan and Secret Service Agent Foster called at police headquarters shortly after 12 o'clock and were closeted for some time with Superintendent Bull and District Attorney Penny. When they left it was announced that Secretary of War Root had through them made a request for complete secrecy in connection with the crime. District Attorney Penny said:

"In order that the people shall not be unduly and improperly excited Secretary of War Root has asked that this matter be treated as quietly as possible. The making of a hero of this man with certain classes or the bitter condemnation of him will tend to disturb the people and Mr. Root's idea is to curb that. We will, therefore, not make public the confession made by the prisoner, nor will we permit anyone other than officials or witnesses to see the prisoner."

Superintendent of Police Bull and District Attorney Penny declined to discuss their second interview with Czolgosz today or to indicate in any way the progress made in the police investigation. They did admit, however, that the prisoner had again talked freely of his crime and that he had insisted that he alone had planned and executed it. It is known that the attention of the detectives is devoted to the socialistic circle at Cleveland to which the accused belongs, and it is regarded as certain that every man known to have been with that organization will be placed under arrest.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of the police to abandon the theory that Czolgosz was preceded in the line up to the President by an accomplice who shielded him from view and to proceed on the theory that while the plot was outlined by others, Czolgosz alone executed it.

The prisoner was confronted by several witnesses at the office of the Superintendent of Police, but except in the case of Walter Nowak, who knew the prisoner in Cleveland, nothing was learned as to the development of the crime. The prisoner lost much of his self-possession during his visit to the office of the Superintendent of Police of Buffalo, and one of the officials who guarded him said afterward that he lapsed into a prescient state of mind and appeared rather dazed. While he was in the room of the Police Superintendent his revolver was brought in and handed to the Superintendent by Captain Wisner. It is expected that the prisoner will be questioned by the officers again later today. It is thought he will eventually break down and reveal the names of the persons who plotted with him for the life of the President.

PRESIDENT RESTING EASILY THIS MORNING.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—General Gillespie, Acting Secretary of War, this morning received the following telegram from Major Thomas Simmons, engineer corps:

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—10 a. m.—General Gillespie, Acting Secretary of War: Have just come from Milburn house. President resting comfortably. No unfavorable symptoms have developed. Suffers no pain except when he breathes deeply. Pulse 120. Looks well and feels as well as could be possible under the circumstances. Doctors speak encouragingly.

"SIMMONS." Major Simmons was instructed by telegraph last night to remain as near the President as possible and keep in close touch with his condition with a view to informing the authorities in Washington promptly of every material development in the case.

TRAINED NURSES WITH THE PRESIDENT.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—11:30 a. m.—Two physicians and two trained nurses are with the President constantly. All others were excluded from the sick room, as it was found that the patient could not be restrained from speaking to those who entered the room. Quiet and absolute freedom from excitement are considered essential. Mrs. McKinley has not seen him today. She was in the sick room last night after the President had recovered from the effects of the opiate. She displayed wonderful pluck and nerve and was bearing up bravely. It is probable she will see the President later in the day.

FEDERAL LAW DOES NOT PROTECT.

PRISONER MUST BE TRIED IN THE STATE COURT FOR THE CRIME.

No Statute of the United States Covers the Case in Point.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The law officers of the Government feel that there is little assistance which the Federal law branch can give in prosecuting the man who shot President McKinley.

It was stated today by a leading official that the Federal laws made no provision for assaults upon the President, the latter being only a citizen in the eye of the Federal law. The old sedition laws made it a serious offense to attack a Government official on the theory that it was an injury to the country as well as to the individual. But these laws have long ago been swept away.

When questioned as to what punishment the Federal statutes provided for the attempt on the President's life, Acting Attorney General James M. Beck said today:

"While I have not given any special examination to the Federal statutes bearing on the subject, yet I know of no statute which makes it a criminal offense to attempt the life of the President. That there ought to be such legislation is perfectly clear."

HITCHCOCK IS MUCH SHOCKED.

Crime is a Barbarous One Almost Beyond Expression.

GREENFIELD, Mass., Sept. 7.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock passed through here this morning on a special train en route to Buffalo. Speaking of the attempted assassination of the President, Secretary Hitchcock said:

"I cannot yet fully realize such a crime has been committed or was possible. Inhuman and anarchistic, the person who fired the shots should be given very little consideration."

"It seems impossible that any human being should have the heart to commit such a terrible crime. There has been no other President since Abraham Lincoln who has received the love and admiration that the American people have given to William McKinley. His whole life has been devoted to the welfare and happiness of the people."

"The crime that has been committed is barbarous beyond expression. I rejoice that the bulletins are now so favorable. The whole country hopes for his recovery."

ANARCHY WAS HIS RELIGION.

HAD NO USE FOR THE CHURCH AND WOULD NOT MAKE CONTRIBUTION.

Minister Says He Believes the Prisoner is Unbalanced.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—It has been learned that without a doubt Czolgosz was an anarchist and a member of an anarchist club named "Sila," which means "force." The club met at the corner of 7th street and Third avenue.

Rev. Benedict Rosinski, pastor of St. Stanislaus Church, stated that he knew the man. He said that Czolgosz had admitted to him that he was an anarchist.

"About four years ago," said Rev. Rosinski, "I asked Czolgosz for a contribution for the church. He surprised me very much by refusing to give it. I asked him why he would not contribute and he said he was an anarchist."

"I always supposed he was a Catholic and that was why I had approached him on the subject of contributions."

"He told me that he had no religion and that he did not want to help churches. He said that anarchy was his religion."

"I believe that he was mentally unbalanced."

Prominent members of the Golden Rule league declare it is purely an insurance institution and its members in general have no sympathy with the anarchists or their principles.

PRISONER HAS HIS PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—This morning the prisoner Czolgosz was photographed and copies of the pictures are being made as rapidly as possible and distributed broadcast.

PRISONER PLANNED TO MURDER.

DECLARES THAT HE DID NOT HAVE A CONFEDERATE.

Full Text of the Confession Made by the Prisoner.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Although Czolgosz refused to incriminate any one else in the plot to kill President McKinley, the police are of the opinion that one other man was a party to it. The man is one who walked directly in front of Czolgosz and shielded him from the sight of the secret service men. The police have a good description of him and his arrest may occur at any moment. There is no doubt, according to the police, that this man was an accomplice of Czolgosz.

Two or three suspects were picked up in various parts of the city during the night, but they were released after undergoing an examination, each one proving an alibi.

Czolgosz does not appear to be insane. Detective Sergeant John Geary, who stood a few feet from Czolgosz when he fired the shots, and who caught President McKinley when he fell, was asked whether, in his opinion, Czolgosz was insane.

"He may be," said the detective, "but from all I saw of him he is just an anarchist."

Czolgosz is not above the average height. His face is that of a typical German. He arose at an early hour this morning and ate a hearty breakfast.

He appears to be very nervous and

IDENTITY OF THE PRISONER

Left His Home in Cleveland
About Sixty Days Ago.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Later information concerning the identity of Czolgosz, develops that he is the son of Paul Czolgosz, who it is said now lives at 306 Flors street, this city. Other members of the family are John, who lives at home with his father and step-mother, Mike, a soldier now serving in the Philippines, Vladimir, who is on his father's farm located on the Chagrin Falls suburban line, and Jacob, of Market avenue.

The family is Polish and are evidently very poor, the father having left home Saturday morning looking for employment. The step-mother cannot speak English, but gave out the following interview through the medium of an interpreter:

"Leon left home about sixty days ago. We heard from a few weeks ago. He was then in Indiana and wrote to us that he was going away, stating that in all probability we would see him again."

The step-mother failed to recollect the name of the city from which the letter was received, but states that it was from some place in Indiana. The family had not heard from him since. The step-mother denies that Leon was a disciple of Emma Goldman or in any way interested in her doctrines. She said she was not interested in such matters and scarcely intelligent enough to understand them. They had always considered the boy partially demented. Up to three years ago he had worked at the Cleveland rolling mill but had to quit on account of poor health. Since that time he has been idle. While living on the farm near Warrensville his father had not asked Leon to work, having always considered him too weak for manual labor. Regarding the shooting the President Mrs. Czolgosz said:

"I cannot believe that Leon is the one. He was such a timid boy so afraid of everything. Why, he was the biggest coward you ever saw in your life."

She also emphatically disclaims that the boy ever displayed any anarchistic tendencies whatever. He was an admirer of his brother, the Philippine soldier, and liked his country, never showing the least sign of discontent. Mrs. Czolgosz is an intelligent looking woman never showing the least sign of emotion when confronted with the account of Leon's horrible crime. The home is neat and clean, but plain.

Paul Czolgosz, the father, moved into Cleveland two weeks ago to secure employment. He has not yet heard of his son's crime.

Two uncles also live in Cleveland one of them residing at 12 Hosmer street.

ANARCHIST IS THE SON OF A POOR POLE.

ALPENA, Mich., Sept. 7.—Leon Czolgosz was born in Alpena about 1875. The family left here nine years ago, and it is supposed they went to Cleveland. His brother Frank now lives at Metz, Presque Isle county, twenty-five miles from here, and his uncle and brother John are located at Posen, Mich. There were eight sons and one daughter in the family. The elder Czolgosz was born in Poland, Posen county, Brumburg, and came to Alpena from there about thirty years ago. The father and older sons were quiet, peaceable citizens, with no known anarchistic tendencies, and were well thought of by the Polish people here. Leon was a small boy when he left here and at that time was apparently no different from other boys of his age, one of the sons married a woman by the name of Neiman.

PRISONER TO BE TRIED IN THE ERIE COURTS.

RUFFALO, Sept. 7.—"As far as I know at present the assassin of the President will have to be tried under the same conditions as those of an ordinary citizen," said District Attorney Penny today. "I do not see how the case can be made a United States offense. I think that it comes under the jurisdiction of the Erie county courts. The charge will be determined when the result of the President's wounds is beyond a doubt. It will be murder if the President dies, or assault with intent to kill if he lives."

BARON VON RICHTHOFFEN CALLS AT EMBASSY.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—Baron von Richthofen, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs, when he received news of the attempt on the life of President McKinley, called at the United States embassy to express his sympathy. A number of the diplomatic corps also called for the same purpose.

THEY DEPLORE THE OUTRAGE.

Marquis of Lansdown Speaks for Prime Minister of England.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—In the absence of Lord Salisbury and the Marquis of Lansdowne from London, Schomberg McDonnell, principal private secretary to the Prime Minister, said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"You cannot use terms too strong in expressing our indignation at the outrage and sympathy for the President. It is terrible. If Mr. McKinley dies, which we sincerely hope he will not, the whole world will lose a man of greater integrity and statesmanship than it even at present realizes. This latest attempt may prove an international arrangement by which anarchists may be dealt with according to their deserts and this cancer of civilization be suppressed. Certainly England would favor such a plan. We and America are blamed on the Continent for harboring anarchists."

"We are deeply relieved to hear the encouraging reports about the President's condition, but remembering keenly how President Garfield lingered, we dread the possibility of complications until the second bullet is found. If the worst comes to the worst, I dislike to contemplate it, it is some slight satisfaction to know that Vice President Roosevelt is such an upright, level-headed man. I don't think our statesmen would feel a bit nervous about his direction of affairs. We sincerely trust, however, that such a contingency will not occur."

Throughout the government offices the same sentiments were echoed. In Washington itself the assassin could not have been more bitterly execrated.

SCENE AT THE BUFFALO HOME.

MILBURN HOUSE, BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The scene at the fine old residence on Delaware avenue, where the nation's executive lies stricken perhaps unto death, was impressive in the extreme.

Far away ropes were stretched and the police guarded every approach. Three companies of the Fourteenth regiment of infantry from Fort Porter patrolled the square on which Mr. Milburn's residence is located.

A large American flag was draped over the veranda on the north side of the residence and here, partially concealed by the climbing vines, sat Secretary Wilson, Miss Barber and several of the other distinguished visitors.

By Secretary Root's direction, shortly after noon, the telegraph instruments were removed from the stable in the rear of the residence to a vacant lot diagonally across the street, where a large tent had been erected for the accommodation of the newspaper men.

The carriages which brought the members of the Cabinet and other visitors were halted at the ropes. Outside the enclosure a pall seemed to hang over the city, notwithstanding the fact that the exposition was open. The kay decorations everywhere now seemed a mockery and the visitors who swarmed the city's streets wandered aimlessly, bither and thither with heavy hearts. Thousands of them, drawn by the magnet of their thoughts, went out to the Milburn residence instead of to the exposition and stood at the ropes with bared heads, discussing in suppressed whispers the chances of the President's recovery.

Many of them were allowed to pass the residence on the opposite side of Delaware avenue, but the curtains of the residence were drawn and they caught no glimpse of the forms sitting about within the darkened house.

An elderly lady dressed in deep mourning threw herself on her knees opposite the entrance to the Milburn residence and with uplifted hands offered up a silent but fervent prayer that the life of the President might be spared.

Upon Vice President Roosevelt's arrival at the station he said to a representative of the Associated Press that the more he thought of this affair the more distasteful the crime becomes. He was driven rapidly to the Hotel Iroquois accompanied by an escort of mounted police.

The clattering of the horses' hoofs attracted much attention as he alighted at the hotel and the crowd appeared to annoy him. At his request the mounted police were dismissed and some police of the bicycle squadron accompanied him on the remainder of his journey to the Milburn residence. When he heard the encouraging news upon his arrival there his face was lighted up.

"I am sincerely glad," said he, turning to Mr. Ansley Wilcox, who had accompanied him from the station. The Vice President remained in the residence scarcely half an hour. He left with Secretary Root and walked around the corner to Mr. McKim's residence, where he will stay. He declined absolutely to say a word.

Secretary Cortesou is making no attempt to reply to the countless telegrams that are being received. The bulletins as they appear are, however, being sent to those foreign monarchs who have sent inquiries and to those members of the Cabinet who have not yet arrived. Secretary Gage left the residence at 11:15. Secretary Hitchcock is expected at 4 o'clock.

When Secretary Gage left the Milburn residence he was asked by the Associated Press correspondent whether the news from the sick room was still encouraging. He replied with a nod of his head, and added:

"We can only trust in God."

Secretary Gage was evidently deeply moved.

GREAT DANGER OF BLOOD POISONING.

RUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—Postmaster General Smith, who left the President at noon, appeared very much encouraged in the outlook for the President's recovery. He said that the great danger was of blood poisoning or of peritonitis. The bullet, the physicians declared, was now a minor factor.

ANARCHISTS HELD SECRET MEETING

Name of the President's Assassin
Was Greeted With Cheers.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Chicago anarchists, in response to a call issued three days ago, held a meeting last night in a saloon on West Chicago avenue and discussed the attempted assassination of the President. Men and women known to be associated with the anarchist movement in the city were in the bar-room. The attendance at the meeting showed that it was no impromptu gathering. Over 200 persons were gathered in the hall.

Three days ago the members of several societies were notified that a celebration would take place last night. The reason for the issuance of the call for the meeting could not be learned from those present. They made no secret of the fact that they anticipated something of which they might talk, however.

Not a word of sympathy for the man who was near his death was heard at the meeting last night. Instead there were speeches in which the name of McKinley was mentioned, only to bring forth cries of execration. For the name of the President's assassin there were cheers. All the salient there were cheers. All the speeches were in German, although at times some member of the audience would give vent to their flings in English.

It was not until early this morning that the meeting broke up.

IS THIS MAN AN AMERICAN?

Remarkable Stand Taken by United States Senator
Wellington.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 7.—A morning paper here publishes an interview with United States Senator George L. Wellington, given in Cumberland, upon the reception of the news of the attempt upon the life of President McKinley. In which Senator Wellington is quoted as saying:

"McKinley and I are enemies. I have nothing good to say about him and under the circumstances do not care to say anything bad. I am indifferent to the whole matter."

The attention of the Senator was directed to the matter this morning with a request for a denial or affirmation of the words attributed to him. He flatly declined to give either.

ONCE HE WORKED IN A PLANING MILL.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Several years ago Czolgosz was employed in a Newburg mill. Among his fellow workers there he was known as Fred Neiman. He is a member of Forest City Castle Lodge, No. 22, of the Golden Eagles. His former associates in the mill describe him as a German-Pole of about 26 years, 5 feet 7 inches in height, with light complexion and brown hair. They say that he was a queer acting man, but was known to have a most violent temper. It is said that the would-be assassin is a strong infidel and a red-hot socialist. He was last seen around Newburg during the past spring. At that time he was living on a farm with his father near Warrensville.

John Ginder, an employee of the Newburg wire mill, and who is also a member of the Golden Eagle Lodge, received a letter from the would-be assassin in July last, dated West Seneca, N. Y. He sent money for lodge dues and stated that he was working there and would probably remain in the place for some time. It is said this letter was written in red ink. The police will probably get possession of the communication today.

NINE ANARCHISTS TO BE ARRESTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Justice Prindleville, at 2 o'clock, upon application of City Prosecutor Taylor, issued warrants for the arrest of nine men and three women who were arrested here last night charging them with conspiracy to assassinate McKinley. The complaining witness was Officer John Ryan. The charge is "conspiracy to do an illegal act on or about September 5, 1901," the specific act "conspiracy to kill and assassinate President of the United States William McKinley, conspired with Leon Czolgosz, alias Fred C. Neiman."

The hearing will take place before Justice Prindleville on Monday.

PRISONER HAS A RIGHT TO SPEEDY TRIAL.

RUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—After the code of criminal procedure a prisoner has the right to a speedy hearing before a magistrate. Whether this right will be given Czolgosz is a matter of speculation. A reporter asked Chief of Detectives Cusack today when Czolgosz would be brought into the Police Court.

"I don't know," said Mr. Cusack. "The matter rests with District Attorney Penny. His wishes will be obeyed by us."

PRISONER IS LYING AND IS STUBBORN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Major Silverstein, Superintendent of the Police, has received the following telegram from Chief of Police William S. Hall of Buffalo:

"Czolgosz is an anarchist. Says it was his duty, but is very glad he did not kill the President. The plot was made in the West. Think prisoner lying and stubborn."

PRISONER SAYS HE WAS ALONE.

Claims That He Was the Originator of Plan to Murder.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—Walter Nowak, a New York cigarmaker, formerly of Cleveland, was taken into a room where Czolgosz was being examined. After glancing at the prisoner he said he knew him in Cleveland two years ago. At that time Nowak was a reporter on a foreign newspaper and in common with him and a number of his countrymen formed a social organization that later developed into a socialist club and he (Nowak) withdrew from it.

He states that he remembers some of the radical resolutions adopted by the club and brought to him for use in his paper. He had always found it necessary to alter them materially to make them proper material for publication. He said that Czolgosz was without sufficient intelligence to organize such a crime as the prisoner had been guilty of.

Nowak said after coming from the room where the conference was held that Czolgosz advanced toward him with extended hand. Nowak looked at the prisoner disdaintfully and refused to accept the proffered hand, saying:

"Scoundrel, why did you commit this terrible crime? Who originated this devilish plot? It was not me, was it?"

"I did," replied Czolgosz. "I did. I originated the plan. It was my plan. It was my crime."

SYMPATHY FOR AMERICAN PEOPLE.

SWANSEA, Wales, Sept. 7.—The Trades Union Congress began its last session today. Resolutions of sympathy with the United States were adopted. F. C. Handier of Manchester and B. T. Lett of London were announced as the American representatives on the executive committee.

HEART WAS PIERCED WITH ENEMY'S KNIFE.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 7.—A Coroner's jury this morning found Fred Lutz came to his death by a knife wound inflicted by Atwood P. Sproule. An autopsy showed that the point of Sproule's knife had pierced the right auricle of the heart three-quarters of an inch, causing internal hemorrhage. It is considered remarkable that Lutz should have lived for fourteen hours after having his heart pierced.

Deceased was a member of the Order of Oddfellows at Orange and the funeral will be held Sunday afternoon under the auspices of that organization in the I. O. O. F. hall at Orange.

STRIKE MAY SOON BE ENDED

Leaders on Both Sides May Soon
Hold a Meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—All signs today point toward an early settlement of the local strikes. No terms have as yet been discussed in joint conference, but meetings were held to formulate propositions for peace, and the significant, though guarded utterances by leaders on both sides indicate a belief that an arrangement will soon be perfected.

Wherever those most vitally interested in the labor struggle gathered during the hours preceding noon, expectancy was in the air. Leaders were cautious in talking for publication, but they would not deny that they anticipated a speedy termination of the industrial battle.

SPIRITUALISTS ARE STILL IN CONVENTION.

The second day's session of the California State Spiritualists' Association was held this morning in Maccahee Temple, southwest corner of Eleventh and Clay streets.

On motion of B. F. Small, seconded by W. T. Jones, San Francisco was selected as the place for the holding of the next convention.

Routine business was transacted.

LARGE MORTGAGE IS PLACED ON RECORD.

The mortgage by which the Ray Counties Power Company about a year ago secured the issue of $2,250,000 worth of bonds has been placed on file with County Recorder Grim.

MRS. HOOK DISPOSES OF FAMILY RESIDENCE.

The Hook residence on Tenth street near Madison has been purchased by Mrs. Mathilde Koenig, wife of A. Koenig. The deed from Mrs. Mamie F. Hook was placed on record today. The consideration is not named in the deed, but the revenue stamps indicate that the property is worth $4,000 above the mortgage upon it. Mrs. Koenig has mortgaged the property to the Oakland Bank of Savings for $1,900.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A SACRAMENTO WOMAN.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 7.—The wife of Dr. F. C. Fay, a member of the State Board of Health, died about 11 o'clock last night at the family residence, 1729 G street, under peculiar and distressing circumstances. She climbed through a window, having lost her key, and was found dead on the floor.

WRITES LETTERS IN RED INK.

Police Secure Evidence From Secret Order in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 7.—An Associated Press reporter this afternoon succeeded in getting possession of the letter written by Czolgosz to John Ginder, secretary of the Golden Eagle Lodge in this city. The communication was obtained from Ginder. It was written in red ink and reads as follows:

"West Seneca, N. Y., July 30, 1901—John Ginder: Dear Sir and Brother—Enclosed you will find $1 to pay my lodge dues. I paid $1 to Brother George Scoush to pay the assessment sent out on account of the death of Brother David Jones."

"Brother Ginder, please send my book to me at my cost and also send password if you can do so."

"I left Cleveland Thursday, July 11. I am working here and will stay for some time. The fare from here to Buffalo is $5.15."

"Hoping this will find you well, as it leaves me, I remain, Yours
"FRED C. NEIMAN."

The above letter was turned over to the Cleveland police this afternoon. The police are working hard to gain some information regarding the family and associates of Leon Czolgosz, who shot President McKinley.

The police have interrogated the secretary of the Knights of the Golden Eagle but will not divulge what information they gained.

ANARCHISTS IN OAKLAND.

Police Will Try to Break Up the Gang of Conspirators.

The attempted assassination of President McKinley by an anarchist has aroused a deep feeling of hostility in the city toward those known to entertain anarchistic views. This feeling is so strong that the police may have to be called upon to preserve from violence a number of alleged anarchists who for the past year or two have made their headquarters at a cigar store on San Pablo avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. Already muttered threats have been made against a number who have professedly and defiantly proclaimed their belief in anarchy and their approval of the methods employed by the reds. The police are already aware of the reputation of the place, and would not be surprised if indignant citizens made an attempt to wreck the place.

BERKELEY BOY DIES AFTER CRUEL TREATMENT.

After having been carried on a mattress for eight blocks through Berkeley this morning little Arthur Ward aged 11 years died in a home deserted by his mother who was in attendance at the camp meeting in Bushard Park of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The carrying of the boy through the street was done at the instance of Mrs. Captain Lockyer at whose home the lad became sick.

As a consequence the mother charged Mrs. Lockyer with cruelty and Mrs. Lockyer accuses Mrs. Ward of neglect of her son and of incompetence. Coroner Mehrmann has decided to investigate the case.

CANNOT ACCEPT PEACE PLAN.

President Shaffer Says the Terms Are Not Agreeable.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 7.—The Amalgamated executive board resumed its sessions this morning with a full attendance of the members. Previous to going into the conference room President Shaffer said there would be no settlement today.

"The peace proposition that has been made to us," said he, "cannot be accepted, and I wish to add that the terms of the proposition are different from those published. The strike will be continued. We have just begun to fight and while we expect some of our weak members to go to work, we have prepared ourselves for that."

WILL WAIT UNTIL THE CRISIS HAS PASSED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Hon. H. B. McFarland, president of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, who is in Buffalo, today telegraphed as follows:

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY IS WORSE AND CANNOT LIVE

ENGLAND PRAYS FOR M'KINLEY.

Noted People Convey Words of Sympathy to Ambassador.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The Lord Mayor has addressed to Ambassador Choate the following communication:

"The people of London have received with profound regret and great indignation intelligence of the dastardly attack on the life of the distinguished President of the United States and they desire to convey through your excellency their sincere sympathy with your country in this melancholy event and they trust that so valuable a life as President McKinley's may be spared for the welfare of the American people."

The United States Embassy also has received many telegrams and telephone messages from distinguished persons inquiring for news and expressing anxiety and regret at the attempt of the would-be assassin.

Lord Paine, the British Ambassador to the United States, accompanied by his daughter, was one of the earliest callers at the United States Embassy this morning. He expressed the greatest sympathy and anxiety regarding President McKinley's condition. Other callers at the Embassy included Judge Gray of Delaware, Professor Saunders of Harvard and practically all the leading Americans in London.

The telegrams of sympathy and inquiry received at the Embassy from all parts of Great Britain include messages from the Mayor of Liverpool, Birmingham and Portsmouth.

"England prays for McKinley," is printed in great black type across the front page of the Evening Star, and all the journals express the hope of the English people that the President will recover. The Sun says:

"The abhorrent crime was committed for mere wantonness."

The Evening News says:

"That he may be spared is the prayer of every Englishman throughout the empire," and the paper mentions the curious resemblance in the circumstances surrounding the crime in Buffalo and those of the murder of President Carnot, whose assassin climbed to his victim's carriage for the ostensible purpose of shaking hands.

The Echo eulogizes the personal traits of President McKinley as those on which Englishmen can dwell with unaffected appreciation.

It is understood that the American police are communicating with the police of the various European capitals with the view of learning whether Czolgosz had relations with foreign anarchists recently.

ASSASSIN WAS ONCE A SALOONKEEPER.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Leon Czolgosz, the man who shot President McKinley, is said to have formerly kept a saloon at the corner of Third avenue and Tod street, this city. Later he was employed in one of the mills of the American Steel and Wire Company. Foreman Halser of the galvanizing department of the Consolidated mill of the latter company, said today: "I know Leon Czolgosz very well. His father, I believe, lives in the vicinity of Warrensville, Ohio, on a farm. There are five sons, I think all residing in this city two or three of them living on Hosmer street. Leon at one time was employed as a blacksmith in the Consolidated mill. Later he kept a saloon at the corner of Third avenue and Tod street. Later he sold out the saloon and lived on the farm with his father."

"I know that Leon is or was, an anarchist. He attended socialist and anarchist meetings very frequently. He is a man of rather small stature, about 26 years of age. The last time I saw him he had a light brown mustache."

PRESIDENT'S PULSE DOES NOT ALARM PHYSICIANS.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—At 10:15 A. M. the rapidity of the President's pulse does not unduly alarm the physicians. Dr. Rixey says that the President has always had a somewhat erratic pulse and its sudden rise this morning was not unexpected. The President is conscious and is calm and collected, although still somewhat drowsy from the effects of ether administered to him yesterday.

PRISONER IS GIVEN PRIVATE EXAMINATION.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—11:30 A. M.—The prisoner Czolgosz has been taken down to the office of Superintendent of Police Bull for examination in private.

BOMBARDING RIO HACHA.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The Colombian Legation has just received the following cablegram:

"Willemstad, Curacao, Sept. 7, 1901.—Venezuelan fleet is bombarding Rio Hacha."

"BECERRA."

Women Must Sleep.

Avoid Nervous Prostration.
If you are dangerously sick what is the first duty of your physician? He quiets the nervous system, he deadens the pain, and you sleep well.

You ought to know that when you ceased to be regular in your course and grow irritable without cause, and pass sleepless nights, there is serious trouble somewhere, and nervous prostration is sure to follow.

You ought to know that indigestion, exhaustion, womb displacements, fainting, dizziness, headache, and backache send the nerves wild with affliction, and you cannot sleep.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ROOSEVELT ON SPECIAL TRAIN.

Arrives at Buffalo and is hurried to the Milburn House.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.—At 1:05 p. m. the special train bearing Vice-President Roosevelt and party arrived at the New York Central depot and as soon as the cars came to a standstill the Vice-President rushed through the gate to a carriage in waiting outside.

To an Associated Press representative who managed to reach him, he said in reply to a question as to whether he had anything to say for publication:

"I have nothing to say; nothing to say at present," and he rushed into a carriage, which, with an escort of mounted policemen at once drove along Exchange street and thence to the house where the wounded President is lying. Another carriage with Detectives followed immediately. The horses were driven at a swift run. The street had been cleared and every preparation made for a speedy trip to the Milburn house.

starts suddenly when anyone speaks to him. He proves to be very elusive in answering questions. The police worked with him until a late hour last night and they admitted that very little progress had been made in bringing out facts from him regarding his past history.

To a reporter District Attorney Penny gave the substance of Czolgosz's confession as follows:

"This man has admitted shooting the President. He says he intended to kill; that he had been planning to do it for the last three days, since he came here. He went to the Temple of Music and passed along. A description of that man is now in the hands of the police of the entire country, and he undoubtedly will be run down. Czolgosz is kept in absolute seclusion by the police and none save the officers have seen him. He probably will be interviewed again today by District Attorney Thomas Penny.

There are reports of other arrests here and at other cities, but the police decline to confirm them. An additional force of secret service men is expected here today from Washington and other Southern States.

HUNDREDS OF TELEGRAMS.

Hundreds of telegrams of regret continue to pour in from all over the world. They come from people in all walks of life and are deeply sympathetic in tenor. None of the telegrams have been made public and it is improbable that they will be. A large number of South American diplomats are in Buffalo and they have come forward with a kindly tender of sympathy and a proffer of any possible assistance they can render.

The relatives of the President have hurried here, and with them have come a large number of men in public life. It is expected all of the Cabinet officers will be here by tonight. Formal expressions of their profound sorrow have come from all of them.

In an interview Secret Service Detective Ireland, who, with Officer Gallagher was near the President when the shots were fired, said:

"It is incorrect as has been stated, that the least fear of an assault was entertained by the Presidential party. Since the Spanish war the President has traveled all over the country and has met people everywhere. In Canton he walks to church and down town without the sign of secret service men of any kind as an escort. In Washington he walks alone and has enjoyed much freedom from the presence of detectives."

"It has been my custom to stand back of the President and just to his left so that I could see the right hand of every person approaching, but yesterday I was requested to stand opposite the

LOOKING AFTER THE ANARCHISTS

Cleveland, Police Are Running Them Down in All Directions.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Acting on statements by the man under arrest for the attempt on the life of the President, the Cleveland police went systematically to work to find if there was a gang of anarchists in Cleveland to which the crime could be traced. Every effort was made by the police, apparently to locate any possible associates or even acquaintances of the man arrested in Buffalo and a number of men were examined at police headquarters without result. The men taken into the "sweat box" were all released after their examination, but two of them were kept under the tension for hours.

The dispatches from Buffalo to the Cleveland police led them to look for an anarchist organization for which the man in Buffalo acted. Among the addresses telegraphed to the police here by the police of Buffalo was one given as No. 170 Superior street or Ontario street. This number on Superior street is Memorial Post Hall of the Grand Army organization, and the corresponding number on Ontario street is that of a store. The Memorial Hall building is occupied by a number of tenants and it was in this building that Emma Goldman once lectured.

What the police regarded as important at the time was the bringing to the central station of a six-foot tall foreign-looking man, who was kept in the "sweat box" from about midnight until early today. He seemed a workman by his dress but was apparently a man of some intelligence. Chief of Police Corcoran and Captain of Detectives Lohrer were alone with him in the Chief's office during the examination and all police officials are under orders to answer no questions concerning him.

A dozen or more addresses found on the man under arrest by the Buffalo police were telegraphed to the Cleveland police and each of these is being run down. None of them have yet led to anything that the police have given out, but it is thought that the tall man in the "sweat box" was brought in on such information.

The police have not abandoned the search for the supposed anarchist organization and the search for the men indicated in the information from Buffalo will continue all day, and men who may be located, arrested or kept under surveillance in the hope that they may betray other members of the supposed band of anarchists.

FRANCE EXTENDS HER SYMPATHY.

Officials Will Take Great Care to Protect the Czar.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The French official world was much affected by the news of the attempt to assassinate President McKinley. In view of the Czar's coming to France there is anxiety lest a similar attempt be made on the life of the Russian Emperor while he is the guest of France. Great precautions had already been determined upon, but the stringency of the measures will now undoubtedly be increased tenfold. The Foreign Minister, M. Delcasse, was one of the first callers at the United States embassy today. He had previously cabled to Washington an official expression of sympathy, but said he wished personally to express to Ambassador Porter his feelings of profound regret and horror in behalf of the President and Ministers of the Republic.

The Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, and all the Cabinet Ministers, either called personally at the embassy or sent their cars.

M. Poulet, chief of President Loubet's household, called on the latter's behalf, and the diplomatic corps and all the prominent Americans in Paris signed the register.

At General Porter's house a stream of carriages began to arrive at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued the best part of the afternoon.

General Porter and Colonel Consul-General Gowdy were much distressed in view of their close friendship with President McKinley.

ASSASSINS OF LIBERTY.

President McKinley was shot down while his hand was extended to grasp in friendly greeting the hand of the dastard who attempted his life. He was the loved and honored Chief Magistrate of a rich and powerful nation, while the other was an obscure foreigner who had fled from oppression in his native land to enjoy the blessings of liberty in this country, the protection of its flag, the hospitality of its people and the opportunities it affords to all to acquire a competence and assume the full stature of a free man.

William McKinley at Buffalo typified the American Republic and Czolgosz typified the scum of Eastern Europe. Each represented a theory and a cult—the one benevolent, virtuous, religious, noble and enlightened, the other sneaking, venomous, murderous, lacking virtue, religion and morality, and without aspiration save the gratification of animal desires and criminal instincts.

In attempting the life of the President, whose career exemplifies the wondrous opportunities accorded here to all, and which typifies the genius and glory of our institutions, the assassin confessedly struck at the government which harbored him and the political system which enables every man to have a voice in directing the manner in which he shall be governed. This escaped serf lifted his hand against the system that raised him from a level but one remove above the beasts of the field and freed him from a tyrannical clutch that could reach him throughout the world till the American people wrote with their blood into the law of nations the imperishable right of man to forswear his allegiance and become a citizen of that country best suited to his condition and aspirations.

The incident is typical of a condition and is illustrative of the attitude of our country toward the alien criminals who from the shelter of our institutions seek to overthrow the bulwarks of society and the foundations of civil liberty. Here they attempt to pull down the pillars of the Republic that they may rear on its ruins the irresponsible and destructive despotism of secret juntas resting upon the bloody code of assassination. They endeavor to turn the refuge of the oppressed into a nest of assassins and conspirators without respect for the laws of God and man or consideration for the sacredness of the lives and property of those whose hospitality they outrage.

Our country has stretched out its hand in brotherly greeting to the poor and oppressed of other lands, and is rewarded by being wounded in its vitals by the wretches to whom the kindness is shown. We have given them free lands and equal opportunities with the children of the soil, and our beloved President stricken nigh unto death typifies the hideous return made for a magnanimity and hospitality far surpassing anything recorded in history. It cannot fail to cause a revulsion in popular feeling and accentuate a growing demand for a restriction of immigration to this country.

Centuries of oppression have bred in foreign lands a class of moral idiots with bloodthirsty instincts who are unable to distinguish between free governments and despotisms, and who hold to the pernicious theory that all law and order constitute tyranny. From hating the system of government under which they were born they have come to hating all forms of government. Their organization is secret, their methods criminal and their cult subversive of family, religion and the commonest dictates of morality. They are inflamed against all restraint and the freer the government the greater their desire to destroy it. They should be kept out of the country and so should the class from which they are spawned. The human vipers produced by old world tyranny should not be taken into the bosom of the nation to corrupt its blood and bring about restrictions which must bear alike on the innocent and the guilty.

The anarchist is the greatest enemy to freedom that the world has yet produced because he construes freedom to mean license and that assassination and incendiarism are legitimate weapons to use in relegating government to the condition of the jungle. It is better to keep them out than to root out and destroy them after they come.

OUR COLORED CITIZENS.

"We are getting little negro immigration from the United States," says a Liberator official, who has left his African headquarters with the object of securing commercial concessions from Great Britain. "At present," he adds, it is hard for immigrants to get work, for the natives are willing to labor for $3 a month.

With such information placed before the colored race here it will be surprising, indeed, if the "little immigration" he refers to does not stop altogether. The Liberator project, well-sounding as it was in theory, proved impracticable from the first moment it was essayed. To take the American negro, who has had the benefits of at least one generation of civilized training and place him back in Africa upon a par with the natives there means one of two things—either the individual thus returned to the land of his ancestors must degenerate to the condition from which he had been taken or else live the life of an Ishmaelite, for the whites would not assimilate with him and he naturally would be of such a higher type mentally than the surrounding blacks that he would be aloof from them. Experiments of this kind have invariably resulted in a tendency to return to the primitive race conditions, for in the case of Indians, children who have had the benefits of educational training at the Carlisle school and have subsequently returned to live with their tribesmen have quickly sunk to the native level again instead of elevating their associates.

There is no necessity, anyhow, to wish an exodus of the colored race from this country, for in truth they form a very welcome part of our national make-up. They make the best and most reliable servants, they are honest and industrious, and but for them we would find it difficult to handle the sugar and cotton crops in the Southern States. Where they have elevated themselves into the higher walks of life we find them capable and energetic, and that their mental standard is fast being raised is shown by such men as Frederick Douglass, George Booker and other negro celebrities. To urge them, therefore, to emigrate to a land where they would have to compete with $3 a month labor and where they would be far more ostracized by the whites than they are here is the height of folly and we should in fact crusade against such a proposition. The bullad, "There's No Place Like Home," does not apply to them as far as Liberia is concerned, for this is their home, and as Afro-Americans they can take a stand with any citizens in the Union.

Another airship has been tested in France and has failed as dismally as the others. The inventor's excuse being that the craft would not rise because the fittings were 200 pounds too heavy. This looks as if the prospects that the Pat Men's Club will ever get an aerial outfit are very remote indeed.

What with one Columbia chosen to defend the cup and another Columbia invaded by Eudorians, that "Hail" business sounds all right, for everything in that line is certainly in a stormy condition.

Holland is now threatening to assault Turkey. The Sultan must indeed be in a bad way if he is not able to stand off a lot of soldiers buoyed up with merely Dutch courage.

An international band of firebugs has been discovered. Its organization was evidently prompted by a burning desire to get even with the new insurance combine.

They are actually forming a feather trust. It doesn't seem possible, though, that the market can be bolstered up in that way.

Cleveland is going to Colorado to hunt big game. He is manly enough to only tack those of his own size.

DEMURRER OVERRULED.
The demurrer of Mrs. May, Mein to the suit of L. N. Cobblestick to recover about $750 on a mechanic's lien has been overruled and ten days granted to answer.

M'HUGH MUST PAY ALIMONY.

Judge Ellsworth Says He Must Take Care of His Wife.

Judge Ellsworth has ordered Wm. E. McHugh to pay his wife, Mrs. L. D. McHugh, $30 a month alimony and $50 counsel fees pending her suit for a divorce.

Through his attorney, E. R. Chase, McHugh contested the application for alimony. In an affidavit he stated that his wife was able to provide for her own support. He said he earned only $36 a month instead of $75, as alleged by his wife. He further alleged in the affidavit that his wife did not conduct herself properly. He stated that she had been frequenting saloons.

On the witness stand Mrs. McHugh stated that she had never visited the places referred to except in the company of her husband. She also stated that her education class had so dwindled since the divorce suit was begun that she was not able to provide proper support for herself and two children.

McHugh is employed at Port Costa, Mrs. McHugh and the children reside at 1118 Wood street. She asks a divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty. She alleges that on one occasion her husband threw a lighted lamp at her, setting her clothing on fire.

Judge Ellsworth, in making the order for alimony and fees, said that it was evident McHugh had made no effort to pay his wife any money. McHugh's demurrer to his wife's complaint was overruled, and the man was given fifteen days to answer.

Attorney Chase filed a notice of appeal from the order denying a transfer of the case to Contra Costa county for trial. Chase stated that McHugh would file a cross-complaint charging his wife with desertion and cruelty. McHugh claims that his abuse of his wife was caused by her actions.

ENDEAVORERS TO PLAY BASEBALL.

Ministers of the Gospel to Raise Money for the Seamen's Rest.

Communications for this column should reach Miss May B. Cruff, Niles, Cal., not later than Wednesday evening of each week.

Preparations for the baseball game to be played September 9 have gone steadily forward, and a large attendance and a good game is looked for. In fact, it is rumored that the respective teams from Berkeley and Oakland have been indulging in secret practice, which means that they will be able to give a good account of themselves in the game. Aside from the surprises and interest which the games will furnish the personnel of the teams will be of interest to many.

The Reverends Hatch, Scudder and Harry Hillard, who are all old-time ball players, and State President Rodgers and Berkeley City Union President Gregory will no doubt do heavy work for the Berkeley team.

Players for the Oakland team do not seem so plentiful, though no doubt ex-Presidents Lowell, Lyon and Suhr and ex-Secretary Gardiner, ex-Treasurer Ayers, and possibly Rev. C. R. Brown, will do much toward keeping the Berkeleyites from winning. Someone has said that President Wheeler would be asked to act as umpire, but it is not certain. However, it is certain that all will have a good time, who attend, and assist the Seamen's Rest also, as the sum realized from the ten cents admission will go to that worthy institution.

Remember the date and place, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, U. C. Campus, Berkeley.

The Endeavorers of the Centennial Presbyterian Church were entertained by one of their members, Miss Charlotte Williams, at the Williams place, on High street, Fruitvale, on Friday evening. Every year the young people of this society are entertained in a garden party, and this one was one of the most enjoyable held. The evening was passed merrily in playing such outdoor games as Drop the Handkerchief, Blind-Man's Buff, etc.

A sumptuous supper was served on tables on the bank of a creek which runs through the grounds. Colored lanterns were hung in the trees, and with the prettily set tables the scene was a pretty one, and greatly enjoyed by the fifty young people who were present.

A Perfect Balance

Of mind and body was the Roman idea of perfect health. They defined this balance as "a sound mind in a sound body." A weak or sickly body tends to drag down the mind to its own level. Keep the body in health and the mind will take care of itself. The health of the body depends mainly on two things: A sound stomach and pure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery preserves the balance of health, because it makes the stomach strong and the blood pure. People who had not had a well day in years, nervous of body, depressed of mind, have been perfectly cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"During the summer and fall of 1896 I became ill from indigestion," writes Charles H. Serout, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio, "nerves went out of order and stomach was out of order. I wrote Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I used six bottles, and since I stopped taking it about one year ago I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good. I do not feel that burning in the stomach after eating, and my blood and nerves are in good shape."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing. Write Address Dr. J. C. Rife, Buffalo, N.Y.

RAY M'CARGAR IS REMEMBERED

Memorial Services Will Be Held at West Oakland.

According to plans made two or three weeks ago, a service will be held tomorrow morning in the Chester Street Church in memory of Ray M'Cargar, who died about two months ago in the City of Mexico. The service was delayed somewhat owing to a possibility of having the body brought home. When it was finally decided not to move the body, the service was planned.

Ray M'Cargar attended the Cole school and graduated from the High school. He was one of the High school boys who enlisted when the war broke out with Spain. He was in the Infantry and was stationed at the Presidio. He never saw actual service. But he was ready to go at his country's call wherever duty led the way. He was a sterling young man in every respect. Chester Street Church incurred a great loss when he went to Mexico. His death came suddenly after a brief illness and was a great shock to a brother and his brothers and sisters who reside in Oakland. Rev. J. E. Wright, W. S. Angwin and the pastor of the church are to take part in the services.

CUT HIS HAND.
Joe Himes of 321 Fourth street, aged 10 years, was treated at the Receiving Hospital for a cut hand received by a fall.

Strikes a Rich Find.
"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes E. J. Green of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles, that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family. Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Osgood Bros., Seventh and Broadway."

BASEBALL GAME BY THE ENDEAVORERS.

There is to be a game of baseball Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Berkeley campus between teams from the Berkeley City Union and the Alameda County C. B. Union. These same teams played a game on New Year's Day, at which time the Berkeley team went down defeated by the close score of 12 to 3. They are anxious to "turn the tables" on their opponents and a close and exciting game may be looked for.

A feature of this event will be that it is to be played for the benefit of the Seamen's Rest.

The game will begin at 2 o'clock, and as the price of admission is but 10 cents, a large crowd will surely be in attendance.

BASEBALL CLUBS WILL PLAY AT GOLDEN GATE.

The Railroad Traffic Baseball Club will play a game with the White Star Laundry Club at Freeman's Park, Golden Gate, Alameda county, tomorrow. Game will be called at 12 o'clock noon.

The game is one of a series and is a return game to the White Star Laundry Club, the clubs having met at the same park on August 18th, when the latter defeated the former.

It is not the object of the clubs to make a financial success of the series being played, but simply to meet expenses, and therefore the admission is only ten cents.

DEATHS REPORTED.

John Samuel Shepler, aged 60, died September 4th at the Receiving Hospital of apoplexy. The deceased was a resident of San Francisco and a native of Virginia. The remains will be shipped to Bloomington, Ind., for interment.

Mrs. Emma J. Andrews, aged 40, died at the East Bay Sanitarium of typhoid pneumonia. The deceased resided at 813 Twenty-second street. The funeral was held today and the interment took place in Mountain View Cemetery.

DRAWING THE LINES ON GUBERNATORIAL CONTEST

SENATOR PERKINS' CONTEST IS WELL IN HAND — CANDIDATES MAKING COMBINATIONS — POLITICAL GOS-SIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, September 7.—The situation is working out slowly but surely. The open inauguration by ex-Senator Bull of Flint's gubernatorial campaign in the Southern part of the State is dividing the Republican forces into two factions—those who are with Gage and those who are for Flint. Other candidates are heard of occasionally, it is true, but they either drop out of the running or are arbitrarily sidetracked in the course of a few days, and there now seems little doubt that by the time the State Convention gets around, Flint will represent everything that is anti-Gage, while the Governor will carry the banner of the organized, or as some term it, the machine, elements of the State.

Take the developments of the present week, for example. One day Flint was proclaimed from the Bulletin house as a candidate for Governor and to behold, within twelve hours, out came the Examiner with a positive announcement declaring him out of the race. Dr. Pardee's name was snatched from the Southern end of the State as an avowed aspirant for the Executive chair, and then quickly came from his own lips a qualification of the statement, while Frank Short of Fresno has been kept busy denying that he has shed his censor into the ring, or that he has any immediate intention of doing so. Railroad Commissioner Edson of Siskiyou is going after the honor as if he really meant business, but those who know the conditions up his way think that he will be lucky. If he lands back where he is, and have an idea that a re-nomination for the railroad board is really what he is fighting on. The same consideration seems to accompany Controller Ed Colgan's gubernatorial aspirations, for he has been declared a candidate before each of the last two campaigns, and has always settled back into the Controllership, where the real racing began.

As for dark horses there seems to be no particular reason why any should be in the stable. The mysterious references to a new man from the North are taken by most people to mean Attorney-General Ford, but those who have been figuring that he had better go upon another tack, for he is diverting his efforts to remaining where he is, and has no present intention whatever of seeking to plant his feet on the topmost rung of the ladder. W. Frank Pierce of Oakland has also been mentioned as one of the subtle studs, as has Attorney George Reed. When all is said and done it will be found that the fight will settle down to Flint versus Gage, and that everybody will be tied up on one side or the other.

It is undeniable that this time Flint is in a better position to make a fight than he ever has been before. In addition to his own personal strength and the efforts of all the hard work he has done during his industrious peering away of the last four years, he is able to take advantage of all the opposition to the administration, and also to the personality of those identified with it. For instance, not only are the anti-Gage people under the Flint banner, but the anti-Burns, anti-Lynch, anti-MacKenzie, and in fact anti-everything forces are flocking in the same direction, thus creating the conditions alluded to in the opening sentence of this letter.

A GENERAL RESUME.
And now to make a brief resume of how things stand up to date. In San Francisco Gage is in control—the primaries proved that beyond question. In Alameda county Flint has many personal friends, but Gage is supported by the working politicians and party leaders. In Los Angeles county the Governor seems from this long-distance view to be well in the ascendancy, as is but natural when his lavish distribution of patronage down that way is remembered, and also the personal popularity that secured for him his present term. Then again, the Southern organization is in his interests. There is an anti-administration element—it is true, but it consists mostly of soreheads, for when Gage went into the Governor's office about every other man in Los Angeles figured on landing in a good State job, and though many called few were chosen.

General Gage can of course be relied upon to hammer away at Gage from now on until doomsday, but the Governor has no fear of the Times, and in fact has an idea that its opposition will help him rather than otherwise. The story has been circulated that ex-Governor Markham had taken the field against Gage, but this is authenticly denied, and it is indeed said that Markham will do what he can for the Governor all along the line. Where some very good politics have been done in Gage's interests is in the Supreme Court fight down that way. As Judge McKinley was a candidate for Supreme Justice at the last convention the presumption naturally attached that he would be so this time, and when he came to San Francisco and was Gage's champion at the time of the recent State Central Committee set to on the primary issue the word was passed along the line that Gage and McKinley had made a deal, and that the Angelino would get the support of the Administration for the Supreme bench.

This was dangerous, for Judge Shaw of Los Angeles is also a candidate for the upper court, and with Gage tied up to McKinley he would perform have to go into the Flint camp. This might prove disastrous to the Governor, as Shaw has a strong following south of the Tehachas. So a conference was held and its outcome was that McKinley declared himself not only not a candidate for Justice, but came out with a flat-footed announcement that he was for Shaw for the place. This therefore compels Shaw to remain neutral as between Flint and Gage, so that what would have been one of the strongest trump cards the San Benito man could play in the orange belt has been effectually enured by his opponent.

Summing up the situation, therefore, as far as Los Angeles is concerned it can be said that while Gage's hottest fight will be centered there, every indication points to his capturing the delegation almost in its entirety. With San Francisco, Alameda and Los Angeles secured for him the fight would be about even, for Flint's farming strength can be offset to a large extent by Sacramento, Humboldt and the other administration camps that are scattered throughout the state.

IN THE NORTH.

Present indications indeed, point to a solid north for Gage, for if Judge Ed Sweeney of Shasta can put the finishing touches upon the combinations he is making from Sacramento to the Oregon line the vote from that way will be almost on the unit rule, and what is more, it will be cast for the administration. The Congressional nomination will cut considerable figure in this particular section, for as the district is a new one and is at present without a Congressman residing in it there is of course a scramble among ambitious politicians to be the first to go from that part of the State under the new apportionment.

Had such a fight come up four years ago Senator Gillette of Humboldt would undoubtedly have got away with it, for he had a machine of his own on hand at that time, and furthermore, had the prestige of good work in the legislature. Since then, however, the factional controversies in which he has from time to time become involved has dissipated his strength, and it is now said that he could not swing Humboldt county for himself, much less the district.

The next man on the list is naturally Senator John P. Davis of Amador, but he, too, seems to have been sidetracked during the past couple of years. The enemy he aroused in the Burns camp at the time of the extra session and the avenging knife that has been wielded by the Colonel's friends ever since would alone be enough to upset any Congressional ambitions Davis might possess, and when to all this is added the fact that Frank Solinsky of Amador has apparently got his Senatorial strength away from him, it looks as if Davis' Congressional prospects are very remote.

This would indicate, therefore, that Humboldt county can, with a new man, easily control the situation, and it has been suggested that Senator Seligson of the First District should make the run. He naturally would not be averse to having the honor conferred upon him, but he hesitates to announce himself until he feels reasonably certain that his fight would be a winning one.

THE EIGHTH DISTRICT.

Strange to say, the other end of the State is in almost as disturbed a condition as the North on the Congressional issue. It, too, is without a Congressman living in the district, and on the same theory is likewise turning out candidates galore. Judging by the number of aspirants San Diego has named the politicians down there think they have a first mortgage on the nomination, but formidable though these border county candidates unquestionably are, Senator Smith has got an idea that he can beat them. It looks as if he has got to either do so or get out of political life altogether, for the Senatorial district he carried so easily for a couple of terms has been made so strongly Democratic by the new apportionment bill that it does not seem possible that he could win there again.

Senator Rowell, too, seems to have fallen into a tight place as a result of the drawing of the new lines, and down Fresno way even the Republicans admit that his re-election would be extremely doubtful. His district originally consisted of Fresno and Madera counties, the latter Republican and the former Democratic, so as Madera has now been cast elsewhere it leaves him facing the alternative of

UNNATURAL FLESH.

Reduced by Leaving Off Coffee and Using Postum Food Coffee.

"I have used coffee many years; in fact, ever since I was a child, until a few months ago I became satisfied that it hurt me, caused the miserable drowsy feeling and the bloated condition of my body. I was very fleshy all the time, unnaturally fleshy. "Since I left off drinking coffee and use Postum Food Coffee, the effect has been wonderful. I feel like a different person. The bloating has all gone. I am very much thinner and more natural in shape, have a better appetite and do not feel sleepy and drowsy as before. I shall never use any more regular coffee."

"When I first tried Postum I was not satisfied with it, but decided that the fault must be my own, for so many people used Postum and liked it that I knew there was some trouble in my preparation of it. So I examined the directions carefully and found that I should boil it long enough to bring out the flavor and food value. When I prepared it right it was elegant and I am now more than pleased with the delicious beverage I have for breakfast every morning." Mrs. E. M. Pope, 1158 Twenty-third street, Detroit, Mich.

winning in a Democratic stronghold or dropping out altogether. Rowell, however, has not yet fore-sown his cherished ambitions to become Minister to Japan, for although things look extremely dubious for him in view of the movement in General Barnes' favor, he thinks Senator Bard can pull him through. Should, however, Barnes get the foreign billet, Rowell will take another shy at the State Senate—at least that is the impression in his part of the country.

THE SENATORSHIP.

Mention of these legislative candidates makes it not amiss to refer to the way things are shaping as regards the United States Senatorship. That Perkins will be re-elected is the prevailing opinion, for although efforts are being made to disturb his position by means of the Lynch affair and the Gage-Flint fight, no one is able to get away from the proposition that he is more directly in line for it than anyone else, and furthermore, that to keep him in the Senate means a great deal more for the State than to send a new man there. No matter who the new comer at Washington may be, he has to go to the foot of the class when the committees are given out, and as another prime consideration is the personal acquaintances and influences a Senator secures by active service, it is plain that it is to the general interest to keep the same man there as long as possible.

Although for so important an office as the United States Senatorship there is no such thing as a walkover, it is not anticipated that any other candidates will much disturb the even tenor of Senator Perkins' way. This feeling, too, appears to predominate from one end of the State to the other, and as legislative aspirants realize the existing sentiment it is not surprising to find that practically every one spoken of for the legislature is a Perkins' man clean through.

SAN FRANCISCO FIGHTS.

Local politics are drifting along in about the same channels in which they have been coursing since the primary, and it is not anticipated that there will be any developments to speak of until after the Convention organizes. Those in control of the situation assert positively that there is no such thing as a first choice for Mayor, and judging by their remarks the man of the hour has not yet developed. Should the strike be settled within the next few days a change might come over the complexion of affairs, for then several well-known Republicans not now available could be considered.

One new feature of the situation, however, is the fight that has started up against giving Lackmann the nomination for Sheriff. Before the primary it was whispered about that a deal had been made between the Grand Hotel party and the 'Hidden Committee, whereby the Shrievalty was secured for the incumbent for another term, but it scarcely looks now as if this could have been so, for otherwise the present opposition to Lackmann would not be so much in evidence. The point raised by the opposition is that as he has figured as a Phelan Democrat and has been in many ways identified with the present Mayor would be had Republican politics to continue him in so important a place as the Sheriff's office. Lackmann's friends are doing all they know how to offset this sort of talk, but it is plain that he has a hot fight ahead.

As for the other places on the ticket it can be truly said, in the language of the push, that there is "nothing doing."

HERE AND THERE.

Deputy Secretary of State Will Stone is in town for a few days' vacation.

Bob Campbell, of the firm of Campbell, Melson & Campbell, has gone East to be married to Miss Bertha Gary. Her father is President of the Board of Directors of the billion dollar steel trust. J. C. Campbell is also the other side of the Rockies, participating in his son's wedding.

Senator Thomas Seligson of Humboldt dropped into the city during the week on legal business. He took a spin to Sacramento on today's train, and Monday will leave for the North again.

Seymour Waterhouse leaves today for Chicago. Speaker Pendleton has returned to his headquarters in Los Angeles. Before leaving town he accepted an engagement to mascot Cal. Ewing's Oakland ball players, and succeeded in losing everything in sight for that aggregation. Mr. Pendleton, however, who was just in receipt of his dividends from the oil fields, insisted upon paying all the bets lost on the games by his friends, and in going to the penance himself. Instead of going home in a special train, merely took a commonplace lower berth in the Owl.

BOARD OF TRADE MAKES OBJECTION.

DOES NOT LIKE THE PROPOSED TAX SUGGESTED BY COUNCIL.

Merchants Prepare a Protest and Will Go Before the City Fathers.

It was decided at a special meeting of the Board of Trade last night to oppose the passage of the ordinance introduced at the last meeting of the City Council imposing a tax upon merchants.

It was the sentiment of the members of the Board that if the Council saw fit to pass the ordinance over the protest of the merchants of the city that the fight should be continued in the courts if necessary.

About thirty business men attended the meeting in response to a call. President Kahn called the meeting to order. After a few preliminary remarks concerning the purpose of the meeting and the necessity of immediate action, Secretary Craigie Sharp was requested by the chair to read the following petition framed by a special committee of five:

THIS PETITION.

"Oakland, Sept. 5, 1901.—Recommendation of the Committee on City Government to the Oakland Board of Trade: That the Board take up the matter of the proposed special tax upon merchants and that measures be taken to promptly circulate a protest against the imposition of such a tax; also that the co-operation in our efforts be united on the part of the Merchants' Exchange."

The following form of protest is suggested for the consideration of the Board:

"To the Honorable City Council of the City of Oakland: We, the undersigned merchants doing business in Oakland hereby enter our earnest protest against the passage of the discriminating ordinance, and we believe that taxation should be equal upon all property, and that if more money is needed to meet the expenses of the city then there should be a general raising of assessments."

"The proposed ordinance discriminates against the class of our business men who not only feel the keen competition of a neighboring large city, but who are already bearing heavy burdens in the way of frequent contributions towards expenditures of a public nature, and leaves untouched the large corporations, such as banks, street railways, lighting and water corporations, many of which enjoy a monopoly of their business."

"Progressive cities are discontinuing rather than adopting the proposed method of taxation. San Francisco, after years of trial having found the method of taxation. San Francisco, after several months ago. Sigred, Committee of City Government. Geo. E. Fairchild, chairman; R. H. Chamberlain, H. C. Campbell, Emil Lehnhardt, George W. Howell."

Strong speeches were made against the ordinance by George E. Fairchild, President Fairchild, H. C. Campbell, Julius Abrahamson, C. J. Hesseman, A. Salinger, B. C. Sessions and others.

The committee named above was requested to appear before the Council and make a protest.

GOVERNMENT AND THE GOVERNED.

Tomorrow night there will be religious services in St. Patrick's Church, having special reference to the great crime committed in the assassination of President McKinley. These services will be conducted by Rev. J. B. McNally, the pastor of the church. They will include the offering of fervent prayers, for the recovery of the President from the effect of the assassin's bullet. Father McNally will also deliver a lecture in which, without trenching upon the field of party politics, he will discuss "The Ethics of Government and the Governed." The speaker has felt moved by the unwarranted attack made upon the President to select a subject, the didactic treatment of which can not but strengthen in principle those who are ardent in the support of law and order and, at the same time, show up the enormity of the crime of those who would supplant law and order with anarchy.

WORLD'S MAIL RECORD BEATEN MANY DAYS

SPLENDID RUN IS MADE OVER THE WELL CONDUCTED LAKE SHORE ROAD.

Fast Trip From Australia to Liverpool by Way of the United States.

A world's mail record is being beaten by several days between Australia and Liverpool by way of the United States. The most wonderful sprint of the journey was made yesterday by an American locomotive darting eastward out of Chicago. It was a snorting special, and went roaring over the burnished rails in fierce pursuit of the regular mail flyer that had a tremendous start of one hour and a half at a hurricane rate. Thundering along at upward of a mile a minute the pursuing demon of speed kept crowding on steam and quivering in the eagerness of its race. Mile after mile the awful pursuer went on. Officials had cleared the way for that massive meteor of steel and steam. Stations were flashing ahead and back telegraphic reports of its progress. It was gaining, gaining. They saw it would be only a matter of time with continued good fortune before the chasing comet must overhaul the racing mail train. One hour, two hours, three hours, four hours, the dizzy rush continued, and still there was neither sight nor sound of the leader. They were already out of Illinois, across Indiana and into the State of Ohio. Several stops had been made to flood water into the tank of the racer.

Railway men had been waiting at each of these opportunities to catch a glimpse of the monster mechanical athlete and snatch a few words from the lips of the grimy men in the little cab of the great panting creature of burnished metal. Still the trailer scudded on, eating up new miles of gleaming rails and ever cutting down the lead of its fleeing adversary. At Toledo the race was won. The lightning strain was ended. The pursuer swept into the station and downed brakes in a trice. The mail flyer had not yet quaffed her fill from the water tank. In another second the bags of letters and papers were fairly darting into the compartments of the regular. And not a moment was lost from the schedule time. The special had rammed ahead for nearly four hours and a half. In that terrific period it had not only equaled the unusual speed at which the flyer was running, but it had steadily caught up at the additional rate of fourteen and two-thirds miles an hour.

Such, in brief, is the leap that interested railway officials yesterday kept the wires ticking off results of the effort. It was a mad run over the line of the Lake Shore Road, and it was accomplished so quickly that the watchers at this side of the gridded continent were as delighted as winning bettors at a great horse race, where the favorite comes down the stretch a record-breaker.

There is a little San Francisco story behind the thrilling doubling up of distances. The Ventura, one of the new Pacific greyhounds of the Oceanic Steamship Company, arrived here after a fast trip from Australia via the out-lands. They were wired to the Central and Union Pacific roads. Tuesday John D. Spreckels, president of the Oceanic Steamship Company, called upon Carleton C. Crane, Vice President of the New York Central Lines. He asked if it would be possible to have those Australian mails reach New York in time to go out Saturday noon on the great steamship Campania for Liverpool. It meant great extra speed somewhere, but there might be a chance to do it.

Crane immediately wired to W. B. Jerome, general agent at Chicago of the New York Central Lines, tersely putting the proposition before him. Jerome got into hurried communication with the Lake Shore people. The speedy conference quickly reached a decision. Back came the reply to Crane in San Francisco. The word do it, he had suggested. They would receive the on-coming mail at Chicago and fling it into a waiting special and force the running rate until they should overhaul the regular flyer, no matter how far it might be in advance.

At 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning the mail flyer sped out of Chicago on its swift trip toward New York. At 9 o'clock the Australian mail had not yet arrived from the West. At 10 o'clock it came on a speeding train over the Burlington route. Special mail wagons were at the station ready to tear across town with it to the Lake Shore starting point. There it was flung into the cars of the special charger, and in another moment the great engine was getting off the mark and away on the long sprint of the new relay. One of the largest and fastest locomotives in the New York Central's service had been selected for the effort.

Then the New York Central officials waited anxiously for the telegram of progress. It was an unseen but thoroughly understood race. They all knew the road as well as though it were in miniature before them on their desks. Here in San Francisco Carleton C. Crane was as eager as the officials in Chicago and those in New York, for he had suggested the plan. Then the messages began coming in. He saw the race as it was being run. He knew the route. As Pacific Coast agent of the New York Central lines he was naturally familiar with its chain of roads, a wonderful system of 12,000 miles, made up of the Michigan Central, the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Big Four route, the Boston and Albany, the Pittsburg and Lake Erie and the Lake Erie and Western railroads.

"We have caught up on that first big lead," said Crane delightedly, "but that is not all. There is a long run yet before New York is reached. But we shall get there ahead of time. I have received a dispatch from George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central and Hudson River road, saying

MEDDLER TELLS OF THE AFFAIRS IN SOCIETY.

JACK WILSON DENIES THAT HE IS ENGAGED—WEDDINGS DURING THE PAST WEEK—NOTES ABOUT SOCIETY PEOPLE.

The most elaborate affair of the week was the tea given yesterday by Miss Florence Hush in honor of Miss Martin, who has been for some weeks the guest of Mrs. Wetherbee. Miss Martin and her mother have been much regaled. They are refined and charmingly pretty and it is no wonder that they are so wonderfully popular. Miss Martin wore a sweet blue frock with white lace and her mother was charming in one of the new afternoon frocks with a half-low neck.

The guests were received by Mrs. William and Mrs. Thomas Magee Jr. and by Mrs. Valentine Hush, the former in pale blue organdie. Mrs. Tom Magee in a stunning New York frock of pink and white duck and Mrs. Hush in light silk with white shirred tulle. Miss Florence Hush in a lovely frock of white organdie received the guests and presented them to Miss Martin and to Miss Annette Hullah, the distinguished London pianist who is visiting California and who is at present the guest of the O'Sullivan's in San Francisco. Miss Hullah is a beautiful little creature with bright hair like a halo, lovely blue eyes and a delicate physique. Her head reminds you of Du Maurier's Women, only she is not of the Junoesque type. Miss Hullah played three numbers, and the girls sat quiet as mice looking at the picturesque head which reminds you of the pro-Raphaelite faces so much painted by Burne-Jones, Alma-Tadema and that school. Miss Hullah plays beautifully and has a masterly touch. She has come to California to stay two years for the benefit of her health.

A number of the Fruitvale neighbors had been invited in to take their hats off and assist in entertaining the guests. Among these were Mrs. George Hammer in pink organdie and white face, Mrs. Howard Bray in blue ruffled lawn, and Miss Marwedel in pink lawn. Miss Denman from the city was stunning in pure white organdie. Christie Taft looked pretty in white with elbow sleeves. Miss Violet Albright wore white organdie. Marietta Havens was in pink. Miss Bessie Palmer wore pink and black organdie and Mrs. Oscar Luning blue. Miss Blanche Sharon was charming in organdie with a white rose in her hair.

An interesting series of lectures by Professor F. V. Paget is announced. These will take place every Friday at 4 in Room 7 of East Hall and all the girls are brushing up their French. It will be quite the thing to go, especially as the lectures are to be on the French dramatists.

The club season is in full blast and there are lectures galore. A Mrs. Davenport, an elderly Austrian will give a series of physical culture lectures at the Ebell. She was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Sanborn in San Francisco.

Mrs. Urquhart Lee commences a course in parliamentary law for the members of the California Club next Wednesday. The lessons will be given weekly, on Wednesdays, at 3:30 in the California Club's rooms and there will be fifty in the class.

In October a similar course will be given for the Forum Club.

Miss Vida Redington, Miss Edith Allen and Miss Pearl Kerow were recently guests at a dinner given in San Francisco by Edward T. Parsons to certain bithsome members of the Sierra Club's camping party.

And speaking of literary criticism, which we were not, one of the cleverest things I have heard lately was said by a well-known Oakland girl—not a society girl. This clever young woman is the daughter of a doctor, who is also a politician, and apropos of Jack London's work, she said: "Oh, Jack London ought to have been born in the stone age. He's a barbarian. Why, all through everything he writes, I can always smell the raw meat."

Gordon Grant, son of the Highland Park family, and a well-known New York artist, was recently married to a very charming girl, a New Yorker. The couple are residing in Fifth avenue, where they live a delightful studio existence and where they will be at home after September 15.

Miss Griffin of Winters is the guest of Miss Hazel Curtiss at her East Oakland home. Miss Curtiss recently entertained the best man, Mr. Drown, and the ushers who have been chosen for her approaching marriage.

St. Paul's Church was full on Tuesday evening, the guests having assembled to see Miss Ethel Gage wedded to Mr. George Gross. The bride and her attendants looked very pretty. There was absolutely no reception after the ceremony—not even for the intimate friends.

On Tuesday evening next there will be a concert at the First Unitarian Church, in which we are all interested. Mr. Lovell Langstroth will be the bright particular star of the occasion. Mr. Langstroth has just returned from several years' of musical study abroad and is a 'cellist of marked ability. He will be assisted by Miss Helen Hager, pianiste, Mr. John Lewis, violinist, and Mr. A. H. Cogswell, baritone. Some fine trios will be given. The ensemble work of the three instrumentalists is said to be very good.

Mrs. Langstroth has a house full of guests from Marysville at her home on Lake Merritt.

The Luncheon Club met last week at the home of Mrs. John Albright in Fruitvale. Mrs. Albright leaves shortly for a lengthy stay in St. Louis, where she will visit her relatives and also the Albright family connections.

You will have to excuse me now as I am to be one of a big matinee party today to see "A Royal Family" at the Columbia. They say it's lovely—so dainty and clean and such a contrast to the sort of things we've been having lately. Maud Edith Pope is going, and is going to wear her lovely blue princess frock, the one with the lace and lavender applique, so I must wear my newest frock and dress—carefully to look as well as the rest. Au revoir, THE MEDDLER.

GROSS-GAGE.

The wedding of George Ernest Gross and Miss Ethel Fletcher Gage, daughter of Stephen T. Gage, took place last Tuesday evening in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Few wedding days of recent years have attracted more attention and excited more interest in social circles than this happy mating of two well-known young people.

The church was thronged with friends, and the interior of the edifice, which has witnessed so many of the swell marriages of this city for years past, was most beautifully and tastefully decorated. The wedding was a pink one, and in carrying out this idea, the altar was almost hidden by a bank of pink amaryllis. The altar rail was covered with amaryllis and white-lily berry foliage, and the choir lofts were filled with large palms and oak branches.

A very pretty feature of the decorations were the bells, a chime of three made of pink asters and maiden hair fern, and suspended with dainty ropes of asparagus fern. The larger scheme of the decorations included the twining of the many pillars of the church with branches and palm leaves, while the palm branches also gave dignity and height to the decorations of the altar.

The wedding party were prompt in appearing, and at the hour Rev. Mr. Ritchie, rector of the church, advanced, accompanied by the groom, George Gross, and his best man, Mr. Harry Mason and Dr. J. Lorain Pease.

These were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Carrie Nicholson and Miss Kate Chabot, who were gowned in pink French crepe over pink silk. They carried bridesmaid's roses tied with pink tulle.

Miss Mable Gage, the maid of honor, walked alone. Her gown was of white point d'esprit made over pink tulle, with transparent yoke and sleeves. She carried a shower bouquet of bridesmaid roses and white tulle.

After her came the bride, Miss Ethel Fletcher Gage, accompanied by her father, Stephen T. Gage.

Her gown was planned in a very original way—it was of ivory panne satin crepe, lined with white silk, and elaborately trimmed with Brussels lace and orange blossoms. A bertha of pearl passementerie outlined the yoke of the corsage. The sleeves were of lace and lace trimming outlined the ruffles at the edge of the skirt. The long tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and the bride carried a bouquet of beautiful Bermuda lilies tied with white tulle.

The only ornament worn was the gift of the groom, a brooch made in scroll effect of diamonds and pearls.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ritchie after the Episcopal ritual, and during the ceremony selections from "Lohengrin" were softly played on the organ.

A reception of friends at the home of the bride's father, 1300 Webster, after the ceremony in the church. This, however, was not attended by the young couple, who left from the church on a trip to Portland. They will extend their bridal journey to all places of interest on the Northern Pacific coast, where they will be entertained by former acquaintances in this city who are now resident in that part of the country. After their return to this city Mr. and Mrs. Gross will go immediately to their new home on Boulevard avenue. On Tuesday evening next there will be a concert at the First Unitarian Church, in which we are all interested. Mr. Lovell Langstroth will be the bright particular star of the occasion. Mr. Langstroth has just returned from several years' of musical study abroad and is a 'cellist of marked ability. He will be assisted by Miss Helen Hager, pianiste, Mr. John Lewis, violinist, and Mr. A. H. Cogswell, baritone. Some fine trios will be given. The ensemble work of the three instrumentalists is said to be very good.

Mrs. Langstroth has a house full of guests from Marysville at her home on Lake Merritt.

The Luncheon Club met last week at the home of Mrs. John Albright in Fruitvale. Mrs. Albright leaves shortly for a lengthy stay in St. Louis, where she will visit her relatives and also the Albright family connections.

You will have to excuse me now as I am to be one of a big matinee party today to see "A Royal Family" at the Columbia. They say it's lovely—so dainty and clean and such a contrast to the sort of things we've been having lately. Maud Edith Pope is going, and is going to wear her lovely blue princess frock, the one with the lace and lavender applique, so I must wear my newest frock and dress—carefully to look as well as the rest. GROSS-GAGE.

The wedding of George Ernest Gross and Miss Ethel Fletcher Gage, daughter of Stephen T. Gage, took place last Tuesday evening in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Few wedding days of recent years have attracted more attention and excited more interest in social circles than this happy mating of two well-known young people.

The church was thronged with friends, and the interior of the edifice, which has witnessed so many of the swell marriages of this city for years past, was most beautifully and tastefully decorated. The wedding was a pink one, and in carrying out this idea, the altar was almost hidden by a bank of pink amaryllis. The altar rail was covered with amaryllis and white-lily berry foliage, and the choir lofts were filled with large palms and oak branches.

A very pretty feature of the decorations were the bells, a chime of three made of pink asters and maiden hair fern, and suspended with dainty ropes of asparagus fern. The larger scheme of the decorations included the twining of the many pillars of the church with branches and palm leaves, while the palm branches also gave dignity and height to the decorations of the altar.

The wedding party were prompt in appearing, and at the hour Rev. Mr. Ritchie, rector of the church, advanced, accompanied by the groom, George Gross, and his best man, Mr. Harry Mason and Dr. J. Lorain Pease.

These were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Carrie Nicholson and Miss Kate Chabot, who were gowned in pink French crepe over pink silk. They carried bridesmaid's roses tied with pink tulle.

Miss Mable Gage, the maid of honor, walked alone. Her gown was of white point d'esprit made over pink tulle, with transparent yoke and sleeves. She carried a shower bouquet of bridesmaid roses and white tulle.

After her came the bride, Miss Ethel Fletcher Gage, accompanied by her father, Stephen T. Gage.

Her gown was planned in a very original way—it was of ivory panne satin crepe, lined with white silk, and elaborately trimmed with Brussels lace and orange blossoms. A bertha of pearl passementerie outlined the yoke of the corsage. The sleeves were of lace and lace trimming outlined the ruffles at the edge of the skirt. The long tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms, and the bride carried a bouquet of beautiful Bermuda lilies tied with white tulle.

The only ornament worn was the gift of the groom, a brooch made in scroll effect of diamonds and pearls.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ritchie after the Episcopal ritual, and during the ceremony selections from "Lohengrin" were softly played on the organ.

A reception of friends at the home of the bride's father, 1300 Webster, after the ceremony in the church. This, however, was not attended by the young couple, who left from the church on a trip to Portland. They will extend their bridal journey to all places of interest on the Northern Pacific coast, where they will be entertained by former acquaintances in this city who are now resident in that part of the country. # RAILROAD NEWS FROM WEST OAKLAND YARDS

FIFTY NEW PULLMAN COACHES ARE ORDERED—NEW ENGINES WILL BE HERE THIS MONTH—FREIGHT BUSINESS ON INCREASE).

Lack of motive power is causing considerable trouble at West Oakland. There are not engines enough to haul the trains out of the yards. Trains are delayed and made longer, but the result is much the same. The yards remain full of cars that are awaiting transportation to their various destinations.

Yesterday up to 6 o'clock eleven trains arrived at West Oakland from various points. Six or eight trains should have been sent out, but owing to lack of engines only two trains left the yards.

The result was that there was a blockade of cars in the yards that severely taxed the ingenuity of General Yardmaster Cotton and his assistants. It is extremely difficult to handle the cars in the yards when most of the available tracks have been filled with cars that are being held for one purpose or another.

On an average there has been between 200 and 500 cars in the yards daily awaiting transportation to San Francisco. The number of cars in the yards varies with the number of trains that have been arriving. The ferry boats have been doing good service the last week and it has not been necessary to send any of the cars around by the way of San Jose to deliver them in San Francisco. The boats have been carrying cars to San Francisco as fast as they could be handled on that side.

Yesterday there were about 150 cars in the yards awaiting to be sent to Sacramento. The cars were not sent out because there were no engines to haul the trains. All of the available engines were in use and there were none in the shops that could be utilized. The shortage in motive power is due chiefly to the large freight traffic that has developed in the last few weeks. The Railroad Company is doing more business at the present time than it has done for years.

NEW ENGINES WILL ARRIVE THIS MONTH.

It is expected that some of the new engines ordered from the Baldwin Locomotive Works will arrive this month. About 100 engines have been ordered. Some of these will be assigned to the Western Division, but just how many has not been stated. Even this increase will not make the motive power sufficient to handle the large traffic that is now being received. The new engines will be so distributed that the addition at any particular point will hardly be noticed.

Seventy of the new engines will be used for hauling freight trains. Eighty will be used as switch engines. The remaining fifteen will be used for the passenger service. There will be ten wheel locomotives, the heaviest manufactured.

Five of the new locomotives will be fitted to burn oil. They will have Vanderbilt boilers and corrugated flues which will be much similar to those used in marine boilers. The extreme heat caused by the combustion of oil has made it impracticable to use the riveted flues that were formerly attached to engines. The rivets in the latter were forced apart by the intense heat and leakage resulted. The corrugated flues are expected to obviate this trouble.

SCARCITY OF FREIGHT CARS STILL PREVAILS.

The scarcity of box cars to handle the freight is almost as bad as the lack of motive power to haul the trains when they are ready to be sent out. Growers at Pleasanton, Livermore, Altamont and other places in the county are complaining that they have no cars in which to load their produce. Every effort is being made by the Railroad Company to provide the necessary cars but the demand far exceeds the supply.

During the last year the company has added about 2,000 box cars to its rolling stock, but the increase has hardly been distributed over the country and have been lost in the multitude of cars that are in operation.

CAPACITY OF NEW BOX CARS ARE BEING INCREASED.

It is interesting to note how the capacity and size of box cars increase from year to year. Nearly all of the new box cars that are now being built have a capacity of 50 tons, are 29 feet in length and have journal bearings 5-1/2 x 10 inches. The box cars used in 1870 had a capacity of fifteen tons, were 26 and 27 feet in length and had journals 5-1/4 x 5-1/2 inches. The capacity and measurements have been increased gradually as follows: In 1876, capacity, 20 tons, length, 28 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1880, capacity, 25 tons, length, 28 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1884, capacity, 30 tons, length, 30 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1888, capacity, 35 tons, length, 30 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1892, capacity, 40 tons, length, 30 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1896, capacity, 45 tons, length, 30 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches. In 1900, capacity, 50 tons, length, 30 feet, journals, 5-3/4 x 7 inches.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC KEEPS COACHES MOVING.

The passenger traffic is very heavy at the present time. There are hardly coaches enough to make up the trains that are sent out. It has been found necessary to "double out" the coaches in order to have the trains equipped. By "double out" is meant that as soon as a coach arrives in the yards it is immediately transferred to the next out-going train. The coaches are thus kept moving most of the time. Ordinarily it is the custom to send out a coach on the same train on which it came in. Now, however, coaches are sent out on the first train leaving the yards. The next train is made up of coaches arriving subsequently. The work in the passenger yards is always rushed to avoid keeping the coaches there longer than necessary.

FIFTY NEW PULLMAN COACHES ARE ORDERED.

Fifty new Pullman coaches have been ordered and are expected to arrive shortly. The coaches are being built by the Pullman Company. They will have vestibuled ends and will be modern in every respect. The coaches will be distributed over the system.

LIVELY BUSINESS IS DONE AT LONG WHARF.

Business was never livelier at Long Wharf than it is at the present time. All of the docks are filled with vessels that are discharging cargoes, and many other vessels are lying in the stream waiting for berths. Several vessels are coming to Long Wharf to discharge before docking at San Francisco because there is no chance for them to unload at the latter place, owing to the strike. Sugar shipments continue to be heavy. The Charles E. Moody and the Gallie are now working. The Tillie E. Starbuck finished discharging her cargo Thursday. The Olga has finished discharging and is taking on a cargo of hay and other merchandise for the Hawaiian Islands. A number of vessels are awaiting berths.

The colder Matewan is now working. The Harlech Castle has been discharging glass.

The Amethyst and the Cella have been discharging lumber.

The Thalfatta has been discharging coke and coal.

The Emily Lund has been discharging sand.

The Sequoia has been discharging lumber.

The Dunfermline has partly discharged her cargo of coal and is waiting to take on stiffening before discharging the balance.

The bark Molanope has been discharging coke and is now waiting for ballast.

The Star of Italy is taking on a cargo of lumber for Australia.

The H. P. Glade is discharging sand. The Cambrian Hills is expected to arrive soon with a cargo of coke.

The County of Inverness is discharging sand ballast to make room for a cargo of grain.

The Lord Templeton has arrived with a cargo of coal from Australia.

The Belgian King is taking on a cargo of barley.

The American ship John Ena is expected Monday with a cargo of coal.

JAMES FORD RECEIVES WELL EARNED PROMOTION.

After over thirty years of service in the employ of the Railroad Company, James Ford, generally known as "Jimmy Cinders," has been promoted to a lucrative position. He is now general track foreman. His duties consist of seeing that the tracks and various buildings are kept in proper repair. He also attends to the shipping of repair supplies to various points where they are needed.

COMMITTEE SUGGESTED TO COMPROMISE STRIKE.

A prominent railroad man at West Oakland has suggested that the strike question in San Francisco be submitted to an arbitration committee consisting of State Labor Commissioner J. V. Meyers, former General Manager of the Southern Pacific, and J. A. Fillmore of the Southern Pacific University.

"These men are all honest," declared the official suggesting them, "and I think they would settle the strike question to the satisfaction of all concerned. Mr. Meyers was formerly an engineer in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company. He was for years chairman of the general committee of adjustment and while filling that position gained the respect of all with whom he had dealings."

Mr. Fillmore has had a great deal of experience in hearing grievance committees and he is well versed in a man of affairs and would, I think, grasp the situation fully. The three men would, I think, bring the present strike to an amicable settlement."

NOTES AND PERSONALS FROM WEST OAKLAND.

Ed Engbright, son of Master Car Repairer Henry Engbright, Ed Palmer, son of Assistant Superintendent W. S. Palmer, and Ed Butler, all students at the Oakland High School, left Thursday night on a camping trip to Mt. Diablo and vicinity. They traveled in a camping wagon. Before they left they promised to return with a number of bear, wildcats and other large game.

AN ENGINEER'S PERIL

HIS HAIR-BREADTH ESCAPE IN A TIME OF DANGER.

A Long, Hard Strain, Both Mental and Physical—He Tells, in an Interview, the Startling Story of His Experience.

"In the first place," said Mr. Thomas F. Coleman, an engineer, living at No. 417 Post street, Salt Lake City, Utah, "before I tell you of my narrow escape, I will say that my position is a hard one. Not only are the hours long—sometimes I am obliged to work twenty-four to thirty-six hours at a stretch without any rest—but there is a continual strain of responsibility attached.

"Now this strain and lack of rest had begun to tell upon me. I began to have sick headaches. I grew nervous and every little thing bothered me. Then I became irritable and could find no comfort in anything. Very often a dizziness would come over me, I would feel so faint that I could hardly hold my head up and with it all was loss of appetite and sleep, wakeful nights. I was so worn out that I was wholly unfit for my work."

"You seem to be all right now," remarked the reporter, looking at the sturdy man before him.

"Oh, yes, I'm in good shape now," went on Mr. Coleman. "I suffered as I do described to you for about three years and during that time took prescriptions by the score from some able physicians, but nothing gave me more than temporary relief. All this time I was unfit for work and, as I became more and more worn down in health, I grew more and more discouraged. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People advertised in a newspaper, and in August, 1900, I began taking them. I got relief after a few doses and five boxes cured me."

Mr. Coleman made affidavit to the above statement of his cure before Thomas Homer, a notary public, June 20, 1901. "Nervous strain and hard work are the causes of much sickness. The system becomes run down, the nerves racked and the blood becomes poor. The power of the heart, pale and aallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female. At all druggists, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., fifty cents per box; six boxes for two dollars and a half. Send for free booklet of medical advice."

ADAM MAY IN A COLLISION.

Run Down by a Haywards Car and Has a Narrow Escape.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 7.—An accident occurred here the other day which caused considerable damage to a butcher wagon owned by Adam May. The accident occurred at the corner of Castro and C street. Adolph May, who was driving the wagon at the time, was about to cross the track when he saw a car coming, but as the car was moving slowly he tried to get across before it reached him. Just as the horse got on the track the car struck the animal, knocking it down and breaking three ribs. The wagon was also turned over and considerably damaged. The wheels were badly smashed and the body of the wagon was also broken. The young man escaped without a scratch. The force of the collision broke the glass on the front of the car and the motorman was cut in the face by flying particles of glass. The fault of the accident was entirely with young May, who thought he could get across the track, not knowing how rapidly the car was moving.

CUP RACING SKIPPERS

Of equal interest with the big 90 foot yachts that are soon to race for the America's cup, "the blue ribbon of the seas," are the men who will handle the wheels of the vessels. The racing of yachts, especially of the larger sloops, is not a matter of build alone, as most persons think. Seamanship plays a very large and important part in the contests. A yacht needs a skipper who knows how to handle her as much as she needs the best of sails and spars.

Captain Edward Sycamore swings the wheel on the Shamrock II, while Captain Urias Rhodes does similar service for the Constitution, and each of these men is a past master of his craft.

"Sycamore? He's a good skipper and knows his business. Besides, he's been in American waters before and ought to know how to sail his boat in them," is the manner in which American yachtsmen refer to the captain of the Shamrock II. Their good opinion is based on Captain Sycamore's record. The present is not his first experience in racing for the America's cup. In 1895 he was assistant skipper of Lord Dunsraven's Valkyrie, acting in conjunction with Captain Craufield. In 1899 Captain Sycamore held the wheel on August Belmont's 90 footer Minnieola.

Captain Sycamore is 45 years old and a product of the Wivenhoe district, Essex, England, that sends out the very best of English yachting sailors. Captain Sycamore chose following the sea as a profession very early. His first experience in yachting was on board the Marquis of Alisa's yacht, the Lady Evelyn. He remained in the employ of the marquis for a number of years, leaving him in 1878. In 1884 Sycamore first earned the title of captain as skipper of the yawl Amberwitch, and in 1885 he commanded the Amelia, owned by an Englishman named Beauchere. Captain Sycamore remained in Mr. Beauchere's pay until 1892 and sailed for him two of the crack small boats of the season of 1890-1. He won 26 first and 2 second prizes for this owner.

Since then Captain Sycamore has had chief authority on a number of yachts and has won about 100 prizes. During one of his races Captain Sycamore had on board the present emperor of Germany, himself an authority on yachting. So delighted was William with the sailing of the yacht by Captain Sycamore that he presented to the latter a valuable diamond pin.

Pitted against Captain Sycamore and handling the helm of the New York Yacht club's new cup defender, Constitution, is silent and reserved Captain Urias Rhodes. Captain Rhodes is noted among yachting sailors for his lack of words and for the good results that usually follow his handling of a wheel. Rhodes is a product of the south shore of Long Island and has been a sailor from his earliest years. Before entering upon sailing for prizes Captain Rhodes was engaged in the West Indian freighting trade. From that to yachting was a natural transition for the young man.

Captain Rhodes' first experience in America's cup racing was service before the mast on the sloop Atlantic in 1886, when that vessel contended for the honor of defending the "ring." He was later mate of the Volunteer and afterward sailed the Sea Fox and the Montauk, famous vessels of their day. He built up for himself a reputation as an alert, cool headed man and a thorough sailor.

In 1898 Captain Rhodes was called on to command the Defender, succeeding Captain Haff. Rhodes held her wheel during the races that were sailed to "try out" the Columbia. At the time of Captain Rhodes' selection to command the Constitution, an appointment that met with the hearty approval of yachtsmen, he was chief on William Iselin's Emerald. Captain Rhodes is about 48 years old, of splendid proportions and commanding appearance.

Another veteran cup defending skipper, who is this year in charge of Mr. Thomas Lawson's boat Independence, is Captain "Hank" Haff.

Captain Haff may truly be named the Nestor of American yachting sailors. He has been called "the most skillful racing yachtsman in the world," and he can hold his own with any of the younger skippers, although he is 64 years old. It is rather strange, considering "Hank" Haff's record, that he never sailed on salt water until he was past his majority. He is, however, the son of a sea captain who lost his life in a wreck.

"Hank" Haff's early years were spent in railroad work, and his first marine experience was on a sailing coaster. He combined sailing and yachting for a number of years and was second in command of a commissary ship during the civil war. He sailed several yachts with success. In 1881 he gained his first America's cup experience as an extra hand on the Mischief, which won from the Canadian. In 1882 Captain Haff, on the Panny, won the great race around Long Island.

In 1896 Captain Haff was on the Mayflower, and in 1897 his able seamanship enabled him, while in command of the Volunteer, to successfully defend the America's cup from the Thistle. Since then Captain "Hank" has held the helm on the Defender, the Colonia, the Vigilant and other good boats. Captain Haff resides in Islip, on Long Island, his native town, and is one of the most important citizens of the old place.

Good Traits of the Porto Ricans.

Porto Ricans are honest, sober and very hospitable. As a proof of their honesty, the writer did not have his rooms nor his trunks locked in two years, and although he has been in hotels and boarding houses all over the island, he has yet to miss the first article, large or small. His wash has been returned to him without the loss of a single garment. In eating and drinking they are temperate almost to a fault. While it is said that the laborers consume much rum, drunkenness is not seen in public. While all the groceries sell liquors, there was not a single barroom in Porto Rico upon the advent of the Americans. In two years the writer did not see a boisterous, drunken native. If they become intoxicated, they do not show it, as do Americans. With a stranger they will share all they have. The farmer will kill for his guest the calf or kid and will accept no pay for the entertainment. A clean cot will await the stranger in the poorest house—Independent.

A Lady Servant.

The following advertisement appeared the other day in the London Post: "Wanted—A lady to groom and take care of a small pony and to assist in the housework of a small house in the country. The cook is a lady, and no servants are kept. Only gentlemen need write."

DRESS OF THE DAY.

OUTING COSTUMES AND TRAVELING GEAR OF THE SMART SET.

New Gowns For Croquet and Tennis. Traveling Outfit, Including the Dashing Long Coat—Roman Sandals Revived For Children.

Illustrations speak louder than words, but both are desirable when fashion is the theme. Let us then at once thus doubly present some interesting items of the mode. A figure of the first sketch is devoted to the tennis player—a costume made in mauve linen with the strappings outlined with black stitching. It bears a little bolero of somewhat new shape, which can be dispensed with at will, or appear above a blouse, which is of white muslin with an embroidered black spot upon it, belted round the waist with black lace.

The croquet player, who looks on victory bent, is in ecru linen trimmed with ecru lace and bands of ecru taffeta, the little sack coat is entirely made of lace, while the taffeta outlines the collar, the oversleeves and the lace vest.

Second as to sketches are traveling outfits, such as early autumn will bring into greater prominence. There is on the left a neat and simple marine blue mohair gown worn with a tan suede belt, turndown muslin collar and red and blue plaid cravat.

The other figure exploits one of the long cloaks which, in the very lightest weight fabrics, have been a most dashing and at the same time serviceable summer style. This cloak is heavier, of pastel gray cloth, piped with black taffeta and stitched and finished with large pierced bone buttons.

A traveling coat is in fact a very important possession, and extremely swell will be one of black cloth lined with white gage. Collars, cuffs and facing are of white cloth strapped with black gage. In shape it is a man's loose racing coat, seeming to hang in folds without plaits, in sack style, from neck to hem, and yet innocent of a superfluous inch of fullness, an admirable garment.

Again we hear that the bolero has had its day, and its sun has certainly set with at least one swell Paris gown builder. In its place reigns a jaunty jacket, short at the back, with springing basque coming some three inches below the waist line in front, sloping down on either side in front into deep points, which are really continuations of the collar and revers. This new coat gives the long, straight fronted aspect of the figure which is the fashionable desideratum at the present moment.

The Roman sandal has been revived as a very smart fad for children. The offspring of the Four Hundred are exploiting it this season at exclusive resorts. Another summer should see such a sensible notion in full swing for all the little folk everywhere. The sandal is next thing to going barefoot and that is usually commended by the hygienists and is the basis of at least one celebrated "cure."

These forerunners of a probable style are of tan and white buckskin and are constructed with three straps, one passing between the big and second toe to the ankle, a cross strap and an ankle band. The rising generation may walk more gracefully and be freer by one-half (the sandal season being confined to summer) from corns and bunions than their elders of the present day.

To Pouch Eggs In a Ball.

To pouch eggs in a ball is a knack not acquired by all cooks. The way of it is this: The water is heated to boiling and then rapidly stirred until a small whirlpool is produced, in the hollow part of which maelstrom the egg is cleverly dropped. The motion of the water crystallizes the white instantly into a circular covering for the unbroken gold.

The Value OF Simplicity

Don't pretend to be something which you are not. This may sound like a tiresome moral precept, but I am speaking purely from the point of view of self interest. It doesn't pay. If women could realize that it is to their own advantage to be simple and unpretending, how much more life would mean to them! Some of them do realize it in the end, but only after bitter experience. We Americans have been called a nation of pretenders; we are never satisfied unless we are striving to be something which we are not. The American woman is the most restless creature in the civilized world and the most complex. With the modern society woman simplicity is almost an unknown word.

An English woman recently came to this country and was entertained lavishly by a number of fashionable women who vied with each other in extravagant displays in order to win her friendship and procure for themselves invitations to her fine ancestral home. When she returned to London, some one asked her which of the brilliant gatherings had pleased her most. To the surprise of every one, she answered, "An afternoon tea at Mrs. X's." As no one had heard of Mrs. X. before, some surprise was manifested, and she explained, with a smile: "You see, I met her at a big reception where all the women were so stilted and affected that I felt positively lonely. I was drawn to her immediately by the bright, open look in her eyes and her charming air of simplicity. She never for one minute pretended she was anything that she was not, and the fact is I took such a fancy to her that I begged her to let me drop in and take tea with her some afternoon. I was almost afraid of having my illusions shattered when I sent in my card on the appointed day, and if she had been like the other women she might have spoiled it all by some elaborate display. But, no. There she sat at her little tea table dressed in a simple dainty gown which made her look like a girl. Her two little children leaned bashfully against their mother's chair, and the three gave me the most charming welcome imaginable. I spent an hour with her. We chatted of things dear to the heart of the home woman. I told her about my babies in England, and she introduced me to her husband, a fine, manly fellow. It was the most delightful hour I spent in America, and before I left I made that dear little woman promise to come next year and make me a long visit."

If we only realized the attractiveness of simplicity; if the woman who goes shopping covered with tawdry jewelry and wearing a bedraggled satin skirt could but see the superior attractiveness of a clean gingham shirt waist and a smart woolen skirt; if the woman who wishes to receive her friends would only give up the pretentious entertainment which she cannot afford to carry out properly and would substitute the congenial little affair which she can make a success; if the woman who renders her life a misery by filling her house with cheap knockknacks, hard to keep in order, would only realize the beauty of clean, airy rooms, furnished with a few good pieces of furniture; if we all of us would drop pretense and give ourselves time to cultivate our better selves and those congenial people who can truthfully be called friends, how much better and pleasanter life would be.

MAUD ROBINSON.

Concerning Gloves.

Don't wear a glove with a button off or a hole in it, thinking it won't be noticed. It is almost sure to be observed, and it will stamp you as careless and slovenly in the eyes of the beholder. Don't put on a new glove carelessly. The first molding of the glove to the hand decides its future shape, and therefore it is most important that it should not be put on anyhow, but in the best possible manner. Turn back the wrist part of the glove and then carefully work on the fingers, seeing that the seams are straight.

Don't buy cheap gloves. If you cannot afford to have new gloves very often, it is better to have those that are well cut but much mended rather than a new and cheap pair, which distort the appearance of the hands.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Why Make a Curtains Shop of the House?—Household Ways.

Were I a housemaid I would with all my soul appeal against the growing fondness for crowding sitting rooms with bric-a-brac, photo frames, silver and china, that have no mortal mission in life but to clutter the ground. Only those who have the task of dusting these every day can realize how truly burdensome this duty can become.

But so long as today's customs rule in the household this will be an ever present bugbear, and the only alleviation is to devise the best means for doing it.

The most labor saving and therefore the easiest way of doing domestic work requires not only that the hands be trained and skilled, but that the head bring thought to bear on the tasks which the hands perform. Take, for instance, this all important duty of "dusting" a room already referred to, one that must needs be done every day. The unskilled and unthinking worker goes through the performance mechanically and leaves almost as much dust behind her as she removes.

The skilled worker, on the other hand, will have two or three different dusters to use—one for removing the first dust on larger pieces of furniture, stained borders, etc.; then she will have one for use on picture frames, door moldings, ledges and china (a damp duster or oiled leather wrung until nearly dry works wonders); also she will have a fine soft duster for the vigorous rubbing that gives the final brightness to polished surfaces, mirrors, etc. But this takes a longer time, do you say? Not at all, as what is dusted in this manner needs not to be gone over again.

Common salt strewn over carpets is an excellent cleanser, as it gathers the dust and prevents the latter from rising, while it scours at the same time.

To wash a carpet with clear water that has been tintured with ammonia after it has been swept both refreshes and helps it to wear longer; but pray get the dust out first, or after a few refreshings of this kind the last state of the carpet will be worse than the first. And so with all domestic operations—work is best when "mixed with brains."

FOR ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Fixtures a Very Effective Feature of Interior Decoration.

With the increasing use of electric light in the ordinary household the choice of fixtures becomes a matter of importance. These afford an opportunity for exceedingly artistic effects, and designers of such wares have improved it to the uttermost. The two illustrations from Vogue give but a faint notion of the many beautiful high class electroliers.

A flower candlestick for an electric light represents a single half opened morning glory in all its fragile gracefulness of slender stem, daintily encircling tendrils of bronze, with the bell shaped flower of glass that fairly radiates color, so iridescent is it.

In hanging lamps or lanterns is one which imitates in design an eastern water bottle. A nautilus is another quaint design, a scarab a third; but on the whole graceful flower and plant motives prevail in this class of designing.

Josh Billings' Philosophy.

"We should be careful how we encourage luxuries. It is but a step forward from hoe cake to plum pudding, but it's a mile and a half by the nearest road when we have to go back again."

Fashion Echoes.

Coarse grained drill and linen in various shades compose smart walking costumes.

Square bodices, with elbow sleeves, prevail, and soft gray crape is a favorite material.

A cravat and sash of the finest colored cambric, fringed with silk, is a charming addition to a plain cotton or linen gown.

A color scheme in jewels is just now one of the dress fads; i. e., all one's ornaments of one hue or in one stone on any one occasion.

Serviceable evening gowns are of grenadine, flounced round the hem, with a low full bodice, elbow sleeves, a large, soft rosette at the side and long streamers of black velvet.

It is said that small waists are soon to be demode. No more pinching in or tight lacing. In the straight line, or la ligne droite, lies the magic wand of modish gownmakers in future.

FRUIT PRESERVING.

General Rule For Preserves—Marmalades, Jams and Jellies.

Take equal weights of prepared fruit and sugar. To each pound of sugar add half a pound (one cup) of water and heat to boiling point. Skim; add the prepared fruit with a few kernels from the stones, and cook until the fruit is transparent. Lemon juice is an agreeable addition to either peach or pear preserve. Three-fourths of a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit is often used for peaches, pears and strawberries. Often in case of fruit whose shape is liable to be injured by long cooking the fruit is set aside in the boiling sirup three days in succession, the sirup on the second and third mornings being drained from the fruit, reheated and poured over it, says the Boston Cooking School Magazine, which is also authority for the following:

Marmalades, jam and butters are made of the pulp and juice of fruit. For the first two, apples and quinces are cooked in water and sifted, small fruits are mashed and, when the seeds are objectionable, are also sifted. An equal weight of sugar is used, but it is added by degrees to keep the fruit soft. Frequent stirring is necessary to avoid burning. In making butters the prepared fruit is cooked slowly with a very little water. In the meantime it is stirred with a peculiar shaped, perforated, wooden utensil, the fruit being broken up by passing through the perforations during the stirring. Sugar, either pound for pound or three-fourths of a pound to a pound of fruit, and spices are added during the cooking, the larger portion during the latter part of the cooking to lessen the liability to burn. Apples and peaches are the fruits most often made into butters, and the cooking is a longer process than that for jams.

The different processes of jelly making do not differ materially. Fruit juice is boiled with sugar to the jellying state. The shorter the time of boiling the more pronounced will be the fruit flavor. Juice from currants may be extracted by pressure without the use of heat, or, as in case of other fruits, the currants may be cooked enough to release the juice without pressure. To extract the juice a little water is added to the fruit, and the whole is cooked steadily but slowly over the fire until the juice flows freely, or the fruit is cooked without the addition of water in a jar standing in a vessel of hot water until it is soft enough to mash. In any case pass the juice twice through a jelly bag wrung out of hot water without pressure, then heat to the boiling point, skim and add an equal weight of granulated sugar that has been heated in the oven without browning. Let boil until a little will jelly slightly on a cold dish. Five minutes' boiling will usually suffice, though sometimes 15 minutes is required. If jelly with less sugar be desired reduce the juice by boiling some minutes before adding half or three-fourths the weight of sugar. Turn the jelly as soon as cooked into glasses first rinsed in hot water and placed on a folded cloth wrung out of hot water. When cold, cover with melted paraffin or paper dipped in alcohol, then with a tin cover or a second piece of paper. Store in a dry place.

Fried Cucumbers.

Peel two large cucumbers, cut them into pieces about two inches long and again lengthwise, remove the soft part, sprinkle them with salt and let them drain, rinse them in fresh water, dry them on a soft cloth, simmer them for half an hour in a little butter, then add a little sugar, a few drops of vinegar, a pinch of cayenne and two or three onions sliced. After the cucumbers are tender strain the whole, dry the cucumbers and dip them in a light batter. Fry a golden brown, drain quickly on tissue paper and serve very hot, with a sprinkling of finely chopped parsley and salt, and serve with a sauce tartare or a tomato sauce.

The New Walnut Furniture.

The housekeeper who has cherished her walnut furniture, although voted out of fashion now for long years, will rejoice at the news that "mahogany is going out and walnut coming in," says Table Talk. The latter in its revival, however, will be scarcely recognizable from a new process which gives it a lighter, more beautiful and entirely different appearance.

Dull gold is introduced, and when thus renovated it is known to the trade as Cressant walnut. The new walnut furniture is more elegant and cheerful in effect and not as expensive as that of former times.

Suits For Boys.

Two neat suits of the season for boys' day wear are shown. One, for a young boy, is a serviceable Norfolk suit in rough tweed or homespun, and the other, for an older lad, a fine tennis suit of striped flannel in gray or dark blue.

Fashions FOR Children

When the little girls get their new fall bonnets on, it will be necessary to look for them like the needle in the haystack that we have always heard of, for these bonnets surpass anything of the kind that I have ever seen. They are so big and so complicated that one scarcely knows what to call the special style. Some shown me today were so convoluted and twisted and tortured into different shapes that I could not keep the surgical description of a "com-pounded, comminuted fracture" out of my mind. These are all that and more. The silk is of rich and always beautiful shade, and this is shirred so that the shirings make the crown, and where the gathers are put in there are full ruffles of crepe lisse. The frill to the bonnets is about three inches wide, and the edge is stiffened, so there is where the convolutions come in. The frill is made double over the forehead and is in some cases lined with pale tinted silk, but is always edged with the crepe lisse frillings, or really ruffles, since the edges are curled under. There is a false plume made of chiffon set on the top of the bonnet, and some of them have two and three. These match the face lining. The frills are just four times as long as the size of the bonnet at the face. Ribbon strings are tied in a big bow under the chin. Some have ears and others have none. I shall mention but one in detail. This is for a child of 3. There is a diamond shaped and stiffened crown of pale blue china silk, and around this is a soft frill of the same between one and two inches wide. This stands out all around the crown. The body of the bonnet is of brown silk tucked closely. The frill in front is most ample and made of brown silk lined with the blue, and directly along the edge is a row of ecru lace applique. On the top is a looped bow of brown double faced satin ribbon. Strings are of the same. The size of the bonnets is so disproportionate that they are almost ridiculous. Yet when I saw a rosy little face in one I was instantly converted.

The two pictured bits of bonnets are made one of gray velvet and the other of gray felt, and both are trimmed with chiffon, the velvet one having pink chiffon and the felt pale blue and also white. White plumes also decorate one on the crown, and there is a funny bunch of doubled silk and two plumes, both white. One is laid across the crown, and the other is brought down the side of the bonnet. Strings of pale blue finish what is certainly a remarkable production. This is very, inappropriately called a Gainsborough. The other bonnet has the brim raised high and the front set with chiffon plisse, and it is also edged with an elaborate ruffling of the same. On the outside of the bonnet is an immense panache of loops. A short cape of the velvet holds a bow of pink ribbon like that on the top.

We may as well talk a little about the rest of the children's attire. White muslin frocks for the tiny tots will always be the best, but they are so fine and so daintily made that they come too expensive for anything but best. For every day gingham and like goods are employed. There are three distinct styles of shapes for dresses for very small children. One is the French shape, which comes down over the hips very low, and the Mother Hubbard shape for children under 7. Besides these is the regular baby waist shape, and this is the most useful of the three, for it can be worn by children of 8 as well as by the baby.

For outdoor wear for fall there will be some of the prettiest little coats that have ever been made. Some are of velvet, others of rough wool and more of the ribbed velveta, which is such excellent stuff to wear.

I like little boys better than I do girls, and so I will not forget them, as too many do. One suit for a boy of 5 or 6 is of navy blue velveta, in sailor style. The big collar was of white linen, and the deep cuffs matched. Russian blouses are still in style for small boys. One of bluish gray has the stitching on the inevitable sailor collar, done in strapping of white. The belt is also white. This kind of suit is handsome, comfortable and dressy for boys. There are military overcoats for the little fellows, made of blue, with velvet collar and capuchin hood. The eagle must roost on the left sleeve, or no boy would want it. Another handsome overcoat for boys is called the little duke. It is of very dark melton or cloth, and down the front is a wide strip of black astrakhan, with fancy black silk frogs. The cuffs and collar are of the astrakhan. It is a fine coat. The size is so adjusted that the bottom of the coat reaches just to the knees.

COLLEGE CHRONICLES.

An Able American Scholar From the University of Leipzig.

EDUCATION IN GERMANY.

Doctor Gregory Lectures on Education and Social Progress in Modern Germany.

(From Saturday Night.)

The events of the week in University circles have been the lectures by Doctor Caspar Rene Gregory, the distinguished American, on the faculty of the University of Leipzig.

In lectures like these President Wheeler has formulated an exceedingly profitable way of bringing the University to the people. It is an experiment that carries with it the elements of a rare success.

"The first lecture, 'The German Educational System,' is the only one given before the 'Saturday Night' goes to press. A resume of the others will be given later.

Doctor Gregory said: "Nearly a million children come annually into the schools of Germany. And it is through these schools that Germany is lifting the mass of its people. For we must consider education as the mass factor in the individual. And education is regarded as the most important thing in the German Empire. It was said of old that the battles of Germany were won by its schoolmasters. At the head of educational affairs is the Minister of Worship and of Public Instruction, who has suitable assistants. The educational system is divided into the university upper and lower schools. The latter are divided into three grades, the first, the second and the third, the people are to be lifted.

The lower schools are of two kinds, the district and the citizens' schools. The children are sent to the district school, but later, a foreign language, French, is added in the Citizens' School. For the district school there is a charge of five dollars a year, paid in four installments.

Every child must go to school to some school. There is no help for it. No child may run wild. Every child is ticked off in Germany. Perhaps it is not our notion of freedom, but sometimes freedom itself may be illusory.

"In the German system there is certainly a wonderful amount of freedom in educational development.

"A little German child comes to school armed with three papers. The first certifies that he really has been born, the second that he has been baptized, and the third, that he has been vaccinated. There is now a well-defined movement in Germany towards giving books and writing materials free to the children. Every effort is made to see to it that there are rarely more than 25 or 30 children in a class, that the teacher may give as much individual attention as possible.

"A child dare not be out of school, and must enter school when he is six years old.

The school hours begin at seven o'clock in summer and at 8 o'clock in winter. The lessons which are not so difficult are heard in the afternoon, and school has a uniform hour for closing.

There is a variable hour depending on the work set for the day. Wednesday and Saturday afternoons are holiday times.

"The holiday times in Germany are not so long as in our country. There are three or four weeks of Easter, Christmas vacation, and four weeks in summer. It always comes in the middle of things, not when subjects are completed.

"The school holidays are in September, when the whole family adjourns to the country to dig potatoes, and return home tired and happy at night, having had a thoroughly good time in their own simple summer vacation.

"When the thermometer reaches a certain mark, the children are dismissed for the day—heat from the sky.

In cold weather, at a certain temperature, the children are told free. There is perhaps good skating and they get off steam and get up good lungs.

"The children certainly get a round-around education. The middle side of it fully fits them for their duties as citizens of the Empire.

"They learn to read with marvelous speed, and the methods of arithmetic are especially fine.

"The geography touches the actual side of life, the child beginning with his school house, thence to his own town, to his own nation. His natural history is learned in walks with his teachers, who are acquiring his knowledge in an informal way. The German child is most carefully taught drawing, and the little barefooted child of even the lowest classes generally draws a picture to himself. It comes a good ground work for many things in his later life.

"Religion is taught in the German schools, and it is extremely well taught. The teachers are not theologians, but the lessons, the Scripture lessons and the lessons from the hymn books are exceptionally well learned.

"The texts the child will know to his dying day, and there is much that he will give back in his own words. Individuality and freedom mark the religious training in the schools of Germany. A child is taught to think independently and to express his thought freely. This is also shown in the marking system.

"The marking system of Germany is peculiar. Part of the time there is not the slightest sign of a mark. Two or three years later, however, it has to do with the moral, rather than with the intellectual nature of the child. But his record for the eight years of his school life are all in that book. He is marked for industry and the qualities which mark morality. 'One' is very good; 'two' is good; 'three' is fair, the rest mark varying degrees of failure. By presenting this book, carrying a good record for eight years, a man will be sure of obtaining a good position.

"The teachers generally come from the lower classes of Germany. But he is a great man. He has a great deal to say, and is much looked up to. He has a good social position, and is supposed to reflect the highest moral tone of the community.

"Teachers in Germany marry extremely well in Germany. Indeed, Germany as here, there are those who may be lovely born, but who achieve much financial success. In these rich families the daughter often marries the school teacher and with this money backing his position is even stronger in social circles.

On Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the Students' Observatory, Doctor Gregory will lecture on 'Theology Today in Germany,' and on next Tuesday, at the same hour and place, the subject of his lecture will be 'Modern Social Movements in Germany.'

Two specially interesting courses of lectures are entitled 'The White Man's Burden,' and 'Self-Government in the British Empire.'

The public is expected to attend and the subjects are announced as follows: "The White Man's Burden." Three lectures by G. W. Dickinson, M. A., Fellow and Lecturer, King's College, Cambridge, and Lecturer at the London School of Economics and Political Science; at the Students' Observatory, at 4:00 p. m., as follows: Monday, September 16—"The English in America." Tuesday, September 17—"The New Commonwealth." Wednesday, September 18—"Imperial Federation."

One of the most interesting University gatherings of the week was held last Wednesday at eleven o'clock in North Hall.

The Associated Women Students were addressed by Mrs. Magee and by Miss Alma Stockwell, on the subject of "Woman-Student Athletics."

The young women of the University are enthusiastic over the opportunities offered them for physical culture. The new rule obliging the Freshman girls to give five hours a week to physical training is warmly welcomed. The matter was left optional, the girls who needed the training most, were the ones who did not take it. Now Mrs. Magee is enabled to formulate proper exercises for each one, and a strong, vigorous physique, as well as a strong mentality is likely to distinguish in future the young woman students of the University of California.

Within a few weeks at most there will apply for admission to the State University a Chinese woman who is coming to this country to take advanced work in natural science. Her family name is Hsueh, and her father is assessed of an independent fortune, being one of the partners of a large Shanghai mercantile institution. He is a believer in the education of women, and having no sons, has given his daughter the advantages of the best schools available and is now sending her to this country to finish her education.

She would have arrived here on the Pacific with the seven Chinese students who are now pursuing studies at the University, and who in the regulation full dress of the European attended the reception given by President Wheeler.

When she distinguished herself for her scientific work. She was attending the university during the period just prior to the siege of Tien-Tsin, but managed to get to the home of her parents in Shanghai, where she addressed a mass meeting of several thousand people, dwelling at length on the possible results of a war in which China would be the battle ground.

It is said that she was the first Chinese woman to address a Chinese audience where the listeners were numbered by the thousand, and further that the event attracted as much attention as did news from Tien-Tsin. Her object in becoming better acquainted is that she may be of assistance to the women of her race.

The students who were to have been her traveling companions speak in the most complimentary terms of Miss Hsueh, who, they say, is a believer in the faith of the Christian, and has more than a local reputation as a scholar, having graduated from the McCarty School at Shanghai and latter attended the Tien-Tsin University.

IN THE FIELD OF LITERATURE.

Recent Publications That Are Interesting the Reading Public.

"Pittfalls of the Ball-Room" is the name of a handy volume which has been put forth by a minister named G. F. Hall, in which he attacks the waltz with a vigor which is, to say the least, refreshing. The book contains an introduction by Sam P. Jones and, in this introduction there is a hearty commendation of the volume.

Mr. Hall takes his fellows of the clerical profession to task because they do not denounce the dance and because they are laggard even in their denunciation of sin. Commenting on the fact he says:

"I am sorry to say that thousands of ministers are chicken-livered when it comes to denouncing sin at short range. Ministers ought to stand together and fight sin."

The author, however, does not object so strenuously to the old-fashioned quadrille, reels and cotillions that "our grandparents in their simplicity and purity used to enjoy; though, for reasons of association" he would draw a line against everything wearing the name "dance." "When," he continues, "we speak of the dance nowadays, we usually mean the waltz. And what is waltzing? Is it not dancing gone mad. Is it not the whirlwind—the awful result of careless sowing through generations past the wild, passionate, inconsistent, though polished and courtly libertine of American society?"

The author desires to be understood that he is not writing about the dance as it was in scriptural times.

Assailing the excuse that if one desires "to go into society" one must learn to dance, he says:

"Oh, this silly desire to go into society! It is one of the hollowest things on earth so far as brains are concerned. I mean 'society' as the term is generally understood. But I wish to say with all emphasis that it is not true that the best people dance. This is like hundreds of thousands of the noblest men and women in all stations of life that walk the face of this green earth. Influential persons in a trade or profession lower their dignity and impair their usefulness by engaging in a practice which seems rather to have been ordained by the devil for the shilly-shallying, simpering, love-sick lads and lassies."

The book is published by Lee & Shepherd, Chicago.

"Guntion's Magazine" discusses several subjects of importance with ability and impartiality. Among these are "Elements in Economic Harmony," "Is America a Native or Imported Name?" "The Influence of Corporations on Government" and "More Light on the Marching Strike." The magazine is published in Union Square, New York City.

"The Critic" for September will be a welcome number to lovers of books and refined sketches, and these may have an idea of what is in store for them when they are informed that among the contributors to the number are Paul Bourget, Havelock Ellis, W. S. Gilbert, John Vance Cheney and others. "The Critic" is published by G. P. Putnam's sons, New York City.

"The Ledger Monthly" will have a surprise to thousands of people of past years, who were acquainted with the "New York Ledger" when it was a weekly family paper. It is now more than ever a family publication and it is infinitely more interesting. It is typographically perfect. The frontispiece, "The New England Peddler," is worthy of being framed. "The Monthly" is published in New York City.

"Cassier's Magazine" is always a valuable publication for the engineer and the scientific man and it will be found especially so this month. It tells about the "Constructive of the Present Day," gives an elaborate illustrated review of "Machine Tools at the Glasgow Exposition," and shows how wood is made into paper. On all these subjects nothing more practical could be desired. "Cassier's" is published at 3 West Twenty-ninth street, New York City.

"Woman's Home Companion" for September is full to overflowing with articles which will delight not only women, but also all members of the household. It is superbly illustrated and is worthy of the reputation which it has achieved.

"McClure's Magazine" for September has among a number of choice articles one entitled "How I Hope to Reach the North Pole." The paper is by E. E. Baldwin of the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition. It is most interesting and is superbly illustrated. The magazine is published in New York City.

"The Forum" for September is dignified and practical in its table of contents. Two subjects of special interest are the "Commercial Position of the British Empire" and "Can Cubans Govern Cuba?" All the articles are by well-known writers. The magazine is published at 111 Fifth Avenue, New York.

"The Living Age" of the current week, gives in full Professor Koch's paper, before the British Congress on "The Suppression of Tuberculosis," and the article will, no doubt, be read with interest especially by those who have heretofore read only the fragments which were produced in the daily papers. "The Age" is published in Boston, Massachusetts.

"Harper's Weekly" has struck the keynote of the controversy between Turkey and France and has illustrated it in a most interesting manner. The street fair of a prairie town is pictured in a most realistic style. The paper is published in Franklin Square, New York City.

"Table Talk" for September is a most valuable number for the lady of the house who desires to have variety in her dinners. It publishes a menu for every day of the month and no two of the bills are alike. "Table Talk" is published in Philadelphia.

"Modern Culture" is a magazine conducted on a high plane of excellence. It is refined in tone and scholarly in everything. "The Art of a Hemisphere" is worthy of the attention of people who are lovers of art and the "Homesick's Last Haven" treats of life among the Apaches after the manner of a writer who is conversant with this subject. The magazine is published in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Leslie's Monthly" for September contains an account of the capture of a scoundrel by a Lieutenant Mitchell, a story of General Funston who took part in the capture. It also shows up the work of the Negro school in Tuskegee in Alabama and in a very effective manner illustrates the shipping post, as it is, in Delaware. The magazine is published in New York City.

"Leslie's Weekly" for the current week, has a rich store of sketches and pictures illustrating life all over the country. Among these will be found reference to the great robbery of the Selby Smelting works of this State which attracted attention all over the world. The paper is published in New York City.

"Tom Reed Took a Carriage." He intended to walk, but the Driver's Humor Caught Him. A tall, portly, dignified citizen arrived in New York the other day and having no luggage but a light traveling satchel was utterly oblivious to the appeals of the hackmen as he emerged from the New York Central station.

"Fee—thyanoo hotel? Fifth avenue—go in! Fifth avenue!"

"Mr. Dignity stalked right on without a word. Another knight of the whip charged down upon him.

"Say, Denis! Say, Denis! This way for the Say Denis!"

No response from the traveler and not a muscle moving in his face. Then there was a rush of half a dozen.

"Kerridge, sir, Kerridge? Wanter Kerridge?"

"Waldorf Astoria! Take a Kerridge for the Waldorf!"

"Holland house, sir?"

"Hoffman house? Hoffman—"

"Broadway Central? Right on Broadway!"

"The traveler looked up like a tenpin among vineyard crabs and with a face as placid as a pan of milk was calmly and silently moving away from the crowd of hawks, who looked after him with something like amazement, when a sudden thought seemed to strike one of the knights of the whip, who ran after the portly gentleman, and seizing his traveling bag, cried: 'Do it and dumb asylum, sir? Go in!'"

"This was too much. Dignity relaxed into a cherubic smile and the witty hackman had the honor and profit of driving Thomas B. Reed, ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives, to his home.—From a New York Letter.

EMBROIDERED LINEN FOR MORNING GOWNS.

Embroidered linen forms the very smartest morning gown worn at the fashionable summer resort, and it may be pink, pale blue or green, yet white is the most popular. Embroidery around the hem extending up nearly to the waist in vertical lines is one form of skirt trimming, especially good style in white on white linen. The bodice is a blouse with an embroidery vest, or a bolero worn with a thin basiste waist.

One of the yellow brown shades of linen is very much liked because it is becoming, and it is embroidered either in white or brown of a darker tint. Gray linens trimmed with white bands and white stitching are very good style, but lace is not too elegant for these morning gowns. Bruges and rich lace are both being very effectively used.—New York Sun.

MUTE WITNESSES.

The soft lamp glows my desk tonight; My books stand all a-row. I turn them over, and to my sight They seem to sorrow so.

The ancient rhymes of love and death "That were such comforters Seem now to know some living breath That all about them stir.

Story and fable, quaint and good, They speak so bitterly! Not as the hand that penned them would, That they should speak to me.

A little comment, scribbled fine, A finger-print, a bit Of folded paper, at some line, Tell how we talked of it.

Alike the poet and the sage, Gold-edge and russet-brown— A penciled word upon a page, A corner folded down!

The glamour of the verse is down; The cut leaves seem to bleed. In the dim light I read alone The books she loved to read.

NEW PLAY AT THE DEWEY THEATER.

"Lost in Siberia" Will Be Presented at the Popular Playhouse.

At the Dewey next week there will be a startling novelty produced, or great play, "Lost in Siberia."

There are few subjects which appeal to lovers of justice and liberty more effectively than do those setting forth the horrors of condemnation to servitude in Siberia of the political offenders of Russia.

The hearts of the people of this country have been fired by the disclosures made by writers who have made a study of the great Russian penal colony, as they have also been inflamed by the startling manner in which the horrors of that hell have been depicted upon the stage.

For the reason that the mounting of a piece on this subject requires the outlay of a great deal of money for both scenery and costumes, theatrical managers, as a rule, undertake the production of such a play only after a great deal of circumspection.

Manager Stevens, however, has decided that the patrons of his house shall have the best which can be given them in the way of sterling productions, and, for that reason, with a great deal of pleasure announces that on Monday night he will treat his readers to a stage production of the great piece referred to.

The play will be cast to the full strength of the Stevens Stock Company and will be produced only after the most careful preparation extending over a period of several weeks.

There will be full houses at every performance.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The success of Joseph Haworth as "Elliot Gray" in Lester Wallace's great play "Rosedale" has been most pronounced. Mr. Haworth is one of the few men who really deserve to be called great actors.

The Eastern critics are unanimous in their praise of his portrayal of the character of "Vincent" in Whitney's "Quo Vadis" which is to be next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House, starting with Admission Day Malinee Monday and continuing every evening, with usual matinee Saturday and Sunday. The dramatization by Stanislaus Stange, is strong, immensely dramatic and interesting. Its situations are as powerful as they are spectacular and everyone of the characters is a wonderful study.

The character of "Vincent" is not only one of the strongest, but it is one of the hardest working parts Mr. Haworth has ever undertaken. He must in turn be the young soldier, the patriot with all the moods and passions of each. His description of Nero's world and the world of the Apostle, to "Petroneus" and "Eunice" is most touching.

CALIFORNIA.

Next week will be the last week at the Columbia of the engagement of James Neill and his fine company who have been playing with so much success. Next Sunday night, "Barbara Frietche" will be played. The repertoire for the rest of the week will be as follows: Monday matinee and Monday evening, "Frietche"; Tuesday evening, "The Jilt"; Wednesday evening, "A Bachelor's Romance"; Thursday matinee, "The Jilt"; Thursday evening, "A Royal Fox"; Friday evening (farewell), "The Lottery of Love." Seats now ready.

CENTRAL THEATER.

Very seldom has there been any more elaborate and artistic production offered on the San Francisco stage even in the high-priced houses than Belasco & Thall put on last Tuesday night at the Central Theater. They have not relied upon any meretricious interest in producing "The Biblical piece, 'A Voice From the Wilderness,' but have staged it with tasteful and dignified spectacular effect, and presented it with conscientious regard for the impressiveness of the theme. 'A Voice From the Wilderness' is the story of John the Baptist and Herodias, put into dramatic shape by Edward Elmer. It has six acts, all of which are artistically painted pictures of the places of action, and every one of them, four by Harry P. Docket and two by Edward Williams, would do credit to the best of the Eastern artists. The costumes have been very closely studied out and Mr. Downing has consulted the most prominent rabbis on the question of historical accuracy. From this side alone 'A Voice From the Wilderness' demands special notice, and, as the characters and incidents have a special interest for all kinds of people and the figure of 'John the Baptist' is a most impressive one, the play will doubtless have a most successful run. It will be continued all next week.

ALCAZAR.

At the Alcazar, next week, there will be a continuation of the engagement of Florence Roberts, who has been starting at this house with a great deal of success. "Ingomar" of this week will be replaced by the "Taming of the Shrew," in which Miss Roberts will appear in the great role of "Katherine."

THE TIVOLI.

The bills at the Tivoli, next week are "Faust" and "Carmen." "Faust" on Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings and "Carmen" on Tuesday, Thursday, Sunday night and Saturday matinee.
